

Court Decision Friday

Interviews Delayed As Candidates Balk At Identity Release

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Selectmen's interviews with five candidates for town manager, scheduled for this week, have been postponed until a judge decides whether the names of four candidates may be withheld from the press and public.

Following a hearing in Salem Superior Court Tuesday, the board was told to hold off interviewing the candidates until after Friday, when the court will hold a hearing to decide whether four candidates' names may be revealed.

The four men have filed affidavits explaining why their names should not be made public.

Selectmen were scheduled to interview candidates Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights this week. Pending Friday's hearing, the interviews will be rescheduled for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Chairman Norma Gammon said Tuesday night at Town Hall.

The board was taken to court Tuesday morning by the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, seeking the names of the latest candidates.

After Eagle-Tribune Atty. Peter J. Caruso sought the court action, Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien advised selectmen not to hold interviews until after the Friday hearing.

O'Brien indicated he did not want to argue against releasing the names of the finalists until he had the signed affidavits from the applicants stating why they wanted their names withheld.

Two weeks ago the selectmen chose six candidates to interview. But one who Gammon described as "our prime candidate" declined the offer of an interview when he was told his identity might be publicized, she said.

Only one of the remaining five candidates said he would not mind if his name were released. Candidates who are currently working for municipalities seem the most concerned about withholding their names, Gammon indicated — and those are the candidates most likely to have the background the selectmen are looking for, she said.

The chairman said she feared the board would be limited to choosing from among only those candidates willing to have their names made public.

The interviews were set up by consultant Carl VanAsselt of New England Municipal Center, Durham, N.H. The selectmen did not know the identities of the candidates they asked VanAsselt to call for interviews, but referred to the candidates by number.

This month's interviews, when they are held, will be the second round of interviews in the board's search for a successor to Jared S.A. Clark. The selectmen met with four candidates two months ago, but went back to the drawing board after their top candidate turned down the job for financial reasons.

The selectmen did not want to offer the position to one of the remaining candidates, Gammon said at the time, because he would be known as their second choice.

Names of the original four candidates were released after the Eagle-Tribune took the selectmen to court.

To Add Three Buses

The school department's transportation committee, headed by Transportation Coordinator Kathleen Casey, has finished drafting its recommendations for new bus routes, which include the addition of three new buses and buses for all of Ballardvale, Casey said yesterday.

The coordinator said she expected to complete the report by this morning, and present it to the School Committee for their approval next week, "if not sooner."

The final report, which Casey and Business Manager Frank Paul had promised to complete by Oct. 12, conforms closely to the report the two presented to the schoolmen two weeks ago. At that time, Casey added 44 new streets to the list of "potentially hazardous" streets where, she said, buses should be added for safety.

That list did not include streets in Ballardvale, but at the request of the school committee and Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert, the "entire community" of Ballardvale has now been added to the list of streets that should have buses, Casey indicated yesterday.

The report given two weeks ago also called for crossing guards to help children who live on six "moderately potentially

To Focus On U.N. Issues

Dorothy Sherrerd, Andover, recently appointed 1981 U.N. Day Chairman, announced that this year's U.N. Day observance will focus on current U.N. issues with important domestic implications: refugees, the World Water Decade and the International Year for Disabled Persons.

In announcing U.N. Day plans for Andover, Mrs. Sherrerd stressed the importance of the United Nations as the best means available for the resolution of global problems. She expressed the hope that the 1981 observance of U.N. Day would be instrumental in furthering public understanding of the U.N., its accomplishments, limitations and potential.

Special programs will be held in the Andover schools under the leadership of Dan LeClerc, social studies coordinator, and with the assistance of Patricia Dye, Robert Kessler, Liz Cahoon, Betty Keefe, Terri Orringer and Diana Kolben.

A special display commemorating 1981 as the International Year of the Disabled will be on exhibit at Memorial Hall Library for two weeks starting Oct. 16. Prepared by the Easter Seal Society and Chapter 766 parents, the exhibit will include simulations of various types of disabilities, equipment designed to aid the handicapped and materials on how to deal with or prevent certain disabilities.

All townspeople are invited to the Foreign Students Reception, hosted by Memorial Hall Library and American Field Service, to be held at the library Thursday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. "A New China, A New Friendship" will be the featured program presented by Patricia Dye, Andover High School teacher. In addition, Sue Driscoll, a student at Andover High School, will relate her experiences at the U.N. Conference last year.

U.N. Day, Oct. 24, commemorates the 36th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. In the U.S., more than 1000 communities are expected to participate in the nationwide observance under the leadership of Robert Anderson, chairman, Rockwell International Corporation, appointed 1981 National U.N. Day Chairman by President Reagan.

Haunted House Has New Home

The Andover Department of Community Services Haunted House has a new home.

The Shawsheen School will serve as the new haunting ground on Thursday, Oct. 29, and Friday, Oct. 30. For the past two years this family program has been held at the recently demolished Stowe School.

This year's Haunted House, which was prompted by the popularity of the program last year, will have a number of changes. Five hundred people crept their way through the eerie halls in 1980, more than doubling the number from the previous year.

The Haunted House will be held on two separate evenings, Thursday, Oct. 29, and Friday, Oct. 30. The haunting hours have been extended to three hours per evening, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The house will have an all new setup, moving people through at a faster rate. This will involve people guiding themselves through the house. Signs or markers will identify the proper direction and route to take.

Discretion should be used with small children. Young children should be accompanied by a parent or older brother or sister. Remember, the House is dark and the creatures are scary.

One of the things that has not changed is the reasonable cost to families. This small entrance fee will be collected at the door.

The Haunted House will not be held on Halloween night.

Adults wishing to volunteer for one or both evenings should contact the Department of Community Services in the Shawsheen School prior to Thursday, Oct. 29.

Theater

Workshop

The Bradford College Music Theater Workshop, directed by Charles W. Ludington and accompanied by Mark N. Peterson, will present an Alumni Weekend Cabaret in Conover Hall on Friday, Oct. 16 at 9 p.m. The event is open to the public at no charge.

The program includes excerpts from last May's Commencement Weekend production of "The BoyFriend" along with song and dance numbers from famous Broadway musicals.

Concert

On Sunday, Oct. 18, at 3 p.m., the Peabody Museum of Salem will present a special concert of folk, work and sea songs from the Northwest Coast and the South Pacific, including Australia and New Zealand.

The songs, presented by Bob Webb and Jill King, are often light and humorous and will be further enhanced by brief stories and tales of the land and sea. Bob Webb, freelance writer, educator, folklorist and expert on the banjo, is a native of California, currently residing in Vancouver, British Columbia. In addition to playing the banjo, Webb often performs on the guitar, fiddle and button accordion (melodion). He is one of only three or four people in North America who can be considered a virtuoso performer on the McCann 5-system duet concertina.

Pole Hill Negotiations Progressing

The Conservation Commission's negotiations to buy land to preserve as open space usually move with all the speed of an iceberg, Commission Chairman Robert Pustell told the Planning Board Tuesday night. However, current negotiations for Pole Hill in Ballardvale are moving far more quickly than that, he added.

"Negotiations for Pole Hill are quite active at the present moment," Pustell said. But the commission and developer Arthur Kalogianis remain "wide apart at the moment," he added.

Annual town meeting authorized the commission to try to buy the hill, in exchange for town-owned land known as the tea lots opposite the South

School. The developer recently received the planners' approval for a 69-lot subdivision on Pole Hill.

Pustell said he favored the exchange because while Pole Hill is the only open space in Ballardvale for "children of all ages" to enjoy, there is other open space available in the tea lots area.

Preservation of open space should be one of Andover's top priorities, the chairman told the planners, because "development by itself destroys the attractive community."

"My prediction for Andover," he said, "is that it will become less attractive because it will develop. But it will do so more gracefully than some other communities have."

Santa Claus Is OK, But No Pumpkins

Santa Claus, yes, but pumpkins, no: The selectmen have approved plans for a traditional Christmas parade, but vetoed plans for a new Halloween parade in Andover.

The board Tuesday night okayed the Andover firefighters' annual Christmas parade, featuring Santa, scheduled to march through the downtown area Saturday, Dec. 5, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Because construction is underway at East Junior High, the parade will begin at Central Park, rather than at the school as in past years.

But the selectmen were not willing to approve plans for a "Pumpkin Parade" to be sponsored by Steem Ex Carpet Care of 16 Haverhill St. Oct. 24. That parade would have wended its way through most of town beginning and ending up at Towne Deli on North Main Street, passing out 200 to 300 pumpkins along the way.

Although they took no formal vote, the consensus of the board was that they would not approve use of public ways for a private, profit-making organization. Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi recommended turning down the request to avoid setting a precedent "the board would not be interested in establishing."

A written request from Steem Ex said a similar parade is an annual event in Medford, and the company had hoped it would become an annual event in Andover as well.

Pneumonia Flu Clinics Scheduled

The Board of Health will offer a public flu and pneumonia immunization clinic 3:30 to 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 29, in the Fellowship Hall of the South Church, 41 Central St., the director of public health has announced.

Public Health Director Everett F. Penney, Jr., said pneumococcal pneumonia and influenza vaccine will be administered during the clinic to townspeople who were unable to attend the recent annual clinic. The easiest access to the hall is through the handicap ramp on the side of the building.

Residents must pre-register for the pneumonia shot only, and may do so by calling the Public Health nurse at Town Hall, Penney said.

Hike Across Town Planned

The first Annual Cross-Town Hike, tri-sponsored by the Appalachian Mountain Club, Andover Village Improvement Society and the Andover Conservation Commission, will take place on Sunday, Oct. 18, beginning at the Christian Formation Center at 7 a.m. The morning leg will include Deer Jump Reservation; Fish Brook Wetlands; Harold R. Rafton Reservation; Bald Hill - Wood Hill and ending at Barron's Country Store on Haggetts Pond Road.

The second leg will begin at 1 p.m. and traverse Haggetts Pond via the old railroad bed; the Doyle Link Trail; West Parish Cemetery; Reservation Road Reservation; Indian Ridge Reservation and concluding at the Pal Alexander Reservation at the Horn Bridge.

An energetic pace will be set for the morning nine miles and an average pace for the afternoon six miles.

The public is welcome, rain or shine. For more information, call David Dargie at Conserv-Comm. office or Burt Batcheller at Moor & Mountain.

Noonan To Speak On Greenpeace

Patrick Noonan of Boston Greenpeace will show slides and a film, at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 23, at Kemper Auditorium (opposite Andover Inn), Phillips Academy. Refreshments will be served following the talk. Noonan will explain some of Greenpeace's efforts at preventing whale killing and will also include interesting known facts about various whale species.

There is no charge. This is a first in a series of lectures to be presented by the Phillips Academy Biology Department.

LPN Meeting

Licensed Practical Nurses of Massachusetts, Inc. will hold its Bi-Annual Meeting Oct. 20-21, 1981 at the Skipper Motor Inn, Fairhaven. The event annually attracts large numbers of LPNs from across the state. Hosted by the LPNMI Southeast District, this year's Co-chairmen are Southeast District President Agnes Blais, Fall River, and LPNMI President Phillip Gagnon, Salem.

The educational theme of the Bi-Annual Meeting is the Care of the patient Exhibiting Psychotic Behavior in an Acute Care Setting. Alice Bisbee, LPNMI continuing Education Program Coordinator, has indicated that the excellent credentials of the keynote speakers have resulted in a large number of pre-registrations.

To Speak On 'Cities In Crisis'

Thomas B. Hartmann

The first Phillips Academy Friday Forum on Friday, Oct. 16, "Cities In Crisis," will feature Thomas B. Hartmann '41, associate professor of journalism and mass media at Rutgers, on-camera New Jersey political analyst for WNBC-TV, and unpaid member of the staff of U.S. Senator Bill Bradley. He is an author and seminar leader on urban policy, mass media, government and politics. The forum will begin at 8 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium and the public is welcome, without admission charge.

This PA alumnus brings a variety of experience to bear on his subject. He has been associate director of the New Jersey State Office of Economic Opportunity, senior staff member of the Governor's Commission on Civil Disorders, a Ford Foundation deputy director and national affairs consultant, and before that he was headmaster of independent schools—St. Marks School in Dallas, Texas, and the Princeton, NJ Day School. He served Outward Bound, Inc., as a trustee for nine years. He is author of a number of newspaper essays and special articles on urban affairs.

Professor Hartmann graduated from Phillips Academy in 1941, and served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve, 1942-45, as a dive bomber pilot (87 missions) in the Pacific Theater. He returned to Princeton University, where he graduated in 1948 with honors in politics.

Check Recycling Calendar For Pickup Dates

During the week of Oct. 5, which was not a recycling pickup week, many people lost track of the schedule and put recyclables at curbside. By coincidence, the every other week new schedule has been the same as the old first and third week schedule for newspapers until now. Andover townspeople are urged to keep their orange calendars at hand to be sure of the right pickup weeks. Anyone who did not receive the calendar in the mail last summer may pick one up at Town Hall. The next pickup week after the present one will begin Monday, Oct. 26.

The recycling contractor requests that paper be stacked and tied or put into double grocery bags that can be tossed easily into the truck. Dumping paper from a box or other container is time-consuming and difficult. Because corrugated boxes must be flattened and tied before they can be accepted for recycling and must be separated from other paper, corrugated boxes full of paper will not be picked up.

Although double bags of separated glass are collected, the contractor prefers that glass be placed in reusable containers such as plastic trash cans or waste baskets. These containers may be marked for quick identification with permanent markers or the Andover Recycles sticker available at Town Hall. Please do not put covers on them. Holes may be drilled in the bottom for drainage. It is also helpful in rainy weather to place recyclables away from low areas where water may collect.

The town's fall aluminum drive was the best ever, but bi-metal soft drink and beer cans among the aluminum ones remained something of a problem. The spring aluminum drive is scheduled for May 1.

NOW Meets

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of N.O.W. (National Organization of Women) will hold its monthly meeting at North Parish Church in North Andover on Wednesday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Swadesh Mullick will speak on women's health issues.

Symposium

A Merrimack Valley Symposium on "Health Promotion at the Worksite" is being sponsored by the Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council and local employers and health providers who comprise The Worksite Health Promotion Task Force. The symposium will be held on Friday, Oct. 30, at the Northern Essex Community College Library and will run from 8:30 a.m. to 12 m.

The Worksite Health Promotion Task Force is offering this symposium to give basic information to employers interested in on-site health promotion programs, and to encourage them to begin to implement a program. Some of the potential benefits found by employers sponsoring such programs include reduced employee absenteeism, reduced tardiness, reduced health and disability insurance claims, reduced employee turnover, and increased productivity and work satisfaction.

Magic Becomes Theatre

"Where did that man go?" asked the puzzled two-and-a-half year old, posing the very question on the minds of hundreds of others watching a recent show at the Cabot Street Cinema Theater. "Oh, ah, he's in the box, I thin," said the child's companion. "Or is he in that box over there..."

Such is the beauty of magic. It entertains and mystifies. On Sunday, Nov. 15, the Department of Community Services will visit Beverly to see "LeGrand David and His Own Spectacular Magic Company" where both the young and the old will be taken on a magical mystery tour.

The Magic Company is a labor of love for more than 60 North Shore people. The group organized in 1977, bought the 800-seat Cabot Theatre, refurbished the 1920 structure and began their magic shows. The production has been going strong ever since, bringing a European blend of magic, singing and dancing to American audiences accustomed to getting their entertainment on a 25-inch picture tube.

The Magic Company people like to say that the magic starts the minute the doors of the Cabot are opened by tuxedo-clad doormen. Visitors pass through the mouth of a green dragon as Tassles, the Clown acts as official greeter. There's a puppet show in the lobby prior to the performances.

Jugglers and clowns abound, entertaining the kids and picking up stray pieces of paper and popcorn to keep the theatre spotless. There's even a player piano in the lobby named Rita.

Then there's the show. The lights go down, the ancient fire curtain is raised and a mysterious green smoke shrouds the stage. As trimpeters blast a tune, down the stage ramp comes dancers, jugglers, gorillas, a seven-foot clown and animals of all types. Then enter the magicians, nine-year old Seth, the Sensational (Seth Bartlett), "LeGrand David" (David Bull) and "Marco, the Magi" (Cesareo Pelaez), the patriarch of the company and, in the minds of many magicians, one of the best around today. A total of 68 people, including youngsters, take part.

The show is a glimpse into unreality. Magicians are cut in half and float in thin air. Ducks appear and disappear. A 20-foot dragon makes his (or her) way down the aisles. Marco amazes the audience by entering a box on stage one minute... and walking down the Cabot aisles the next, innocently asking the audience where the magician could have gone. There's even a comedian—Professor Besco, the Inspector Clouseau of magic—who acts as comic observer for most of the illusions and performs his own slapstick magic routines to the delight of the kids.

The most breathtaking illusion, the metamorphosis, will test the sense of logic, but it's impossible to single out only one routine. From Marco's magic rings to David's disappearing ducks to the 17-person barbershop chorus, there's something for all tastes.

Advance registration is required at the Andover Community Service office in the Shawsheen School. Registrations are on a first-come, first-serve basis. A bus will leave Andover at 1:30 p.m. and will return at approximately 6 p.m.

Three Receive Eagle Rank

Troop 77 Boy Scouts of America conducted an Eagle Court of Honor recently where the rank of Eagle Scout was awarded to three scouts.

Receiving the rank of Eagle were:

Scott Maxwell, who has completed 36 merit badges and served in troop leadership positions as a patrol leader, assistant senior patrol leader and senior patrol leader. For his Eagle project he planned and led other scouts in building and repairing two bridges on the banks of the Merrimack River. Maxwell, a junior at Andover High School, is planning to become a pilot.

Jamie Shea has completed 28 merit badges and served in troop leadership positions as a patrol leader, quartermaster and scribe. For his Eagle project he planned and led other scouts in building a unique erasable painting easel and storage cabinet for the LLL Playschool of West Parish Church. Shea, a sophomore at Andover High School, is looking forward to a career in medicine.

Jeff Shupe has earned 25 merit badges and served in troop leadership positions as assistant patrol leader, and is presently senior patrol leader. For his Eagle project he planned and led other scouts in an elderly assistance project helping several elderly people by cleaning up their yards, doing chores and planting flowers. Shupe, a ninth grader at East Junior High where he is a soccer enthusiast, would like to go to the USAF Academy and become an Air Force pilot.

The Eagle Court of Honor was conducted by scoutmaster Richard Shupe with the assistance of Gerry Palmer and Jim Batchelder. The Rev. Paul Clinton, minister of West Parish Church, led the invocation.

Shattuck Study To Be Discussed

The Andover Historical Society will initiate its programs for members and their guests on Thursday, Oct. 15, at 8 p.m. with a lecture on the recent archeological and historical survey of the Shattuck Farm. Chief archaeologist Dr. Barbara Luedtke and historical geographer Michael Steinitz will present their findings of the two-year study through lecture and slides. This important archaeological dig was sponsored by the Andover Historical Society, funded by the Shattuck Trust and coordinated by the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

Due to ongoing construction at the Blanchard House, 97 Main St., the meeting will be held at the November Club, 6 Locke St.

Lecture

The mysterious black holes of space are discussed in a free lecture for New England high school science students and their teachers at Boston's Museum of Science, Friday, Oct. 23, at 3:30 p.m.

The first of four lectures of the Science Frontiers series, "The Search for Black Holes" is given by physicist Dr. Alan P. Lightman of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory. He is also lecturer in astronomy and physics at Harvard University.

Sponsored by the Lowell Institute, the lectures are open to public, private and parochial schools. Reservations should be made by calling or writing the museum at Science Park, Boston, MA 02114-1099.

Dr. Lightman, a native of Tennessee, graduated from Princeton University and received his Ph.D. from the California Institute of Technology. He has held several research fellowships as well as serving as principal investigator for a National Science Foundation grant for a study of black holes. He is the author and co-author of numerous papers and organized the Lowell Lecture series in astronomy and astrophysics held last year at the Museum of Science.

Theaterfest '81 is open to the public. For tickets and information, write Boston College Theater Arts Center, Chestnut Hill, MA 02167.

Located on the Boston side of the 110-acre campus, which extends into suburban Chestnut Hill, it is the first playhouse to be built in the city since the downtown Metropolitan Theater was completed in 1925.

Actor Eamon Morrissey of Dublin's Abbey Theater will give the New England premiere performance of his one-man show "Joyce-men," in which he portrays James Joyce and characters encountered by Leopold Bloom on his odyssey through Dublin in Joyce's "Ulysses." Tim McDonough of Boston-based Theater Works will appear in a new avant-garde play, "Me and My Shadow." Adapted from a John Barth short story, the experimental play involves incompatible Siamese twins who fall in love with a contortionist on the vaudeville circuit.

Outing Club Scales Mt. Washington

The West Junior High School Outing Club's fall program got off to a rousing start with a climb of Mount Washington in the White Mountains National Forest of New Hampshire. A group of 13 students and three teacher/counselors participated in this hike to the summit of the highest peak in the northeastern United States.

Sudden weather changes are always a concern and there is little cover once above treeline. The group pressed on, despite intermittent rain, fog that reduced visibility to less than ten feet, and winds that whistled at about 50-miles per hour.

After a stop at the Summit House, the group hiked 1.4 miles over the Crawford Path to Lakes of the Clouds Hut for the night. Following dinner, sleep and breakfast at Lakes, the largest of the high Appalachian Mountain Club huts, the group divided into two parties for the descent.

The day started off cold and cloudy, but the weather and visibility improved rapidly. It turned into an excellent day with views of the early fall foliage colors at the high elevations an added bonus. One group hiked down over the Ammonoosuc Ravine Trail for 2.5 miles to the Cog Railway base station. The other group followed the Tuckerman Ravine Trail for 4.5 miles to the Pinkham Notch AMC Camp.

Students participating in the program included Donna Dubanowitz, Kim Dyer, Michelle Keller, Dean Knight, Leah Lury, Kim McGinley, Brian Poisson, Michelle Poisson, Kristen Robinson, Andy Schulz, Beth Snow and Angie Van DerWielen. Jay Darrin, Brian Staples and Les Taylor served as teacher/counselors.

Lecture

In conjunction with the current exhibit, "In Sickness and Health," Dr. Philip Cash will present a lecture at The Museum of Our National Heritage, Lexington, Sunday, Oct. 25, at 3 p.m., on "The Conquest of Smallpox: Boston's first contribution to Medicine." The lecture, one of a series, is sponsored by the Massachusetts Medical Society, and is free and open to the public.

Smallpox was one of the epidemic diseases that caused great terror among colonial Americans. It combined the aura of uncertainty with a concentrated impact. It was a particularly repulsive illness; some of those who survived were permanently disfigured, grim reminders that this hated killer was always ready to break out. Happily, one of the first great victories of modern medicine was accomplished by the introduction of inoculation, first used on a large scale in the Western world during the Boston epidemic of 1721. In this lecture, Dr. Cash will focus on the social aspects of the introduction of inoculation for smallpox, and trace the resulting triumphs and failures against the disease in subsequent years.

Rural Health

The Boston Committee of the Frontier Nursing Service is sponsoring an educational program about rural health care and midwifery in the 1980s. It will be held at the Ferry Administration Building, Pine Manor College, Chestnut Hill, on Tuesday, Oct. 27, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Speakers will be Kitty Ernst, a certified nurse-midwife, from the Cooperative Birth Center in Pennsylvania; Ruth Lubic, also a certified nurse-midwife and director of the Maternity Center Association in New York; and Kate Ireland, the national chairman of The Frontier Nursing Service in Kentucky.

Genealogy

A beginner's class in genealogy, sponsored by the Essex Society of Genealogists, will be given at the Lynnfield Public Library starting Saturday, Oct. 17, for five weeks. Each session will be from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon. For further information, call the Lynnfield Public Library.

Open House

Persons interested in exploring the possibility of a career in nursing are cordially invited to attend an Open House at Lowell General Hospital's School of Nursing on Thursday, October 22, 1981, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

According to Anne Polianites, R.N., Program Chairperson and Assistant Director of the School, activities planned for the Open House will give interested persons a chance to talk with faculty and staff, to learn more about the School's curriculum, living accommodations and recreational activities.

Lowell General Hospital's School of Nursing is a day program which runs Monday through Friday, from September to June. Both male and female students are accepted. Students of all ages are welcome. The education program is 105 weeks in length and extends over a 32-month period. It is headed by Miss Barbara Hussey, R.N., Director.

Genealogists

The Essex Society of Genealogists will meet Oct. 17 at 1 p.m. at the Lynnfield Public Library. Marcia Wiswall, director, Lynnfield Public Library, will discuss "Audio-Visual Genealogical Resources: What They Are And How To Use Them." The lecture will start at 1 p.m. following the noon social hour.

Big Plunge

The first person to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel was Anna Edson Taylor. Oct. 24, 1901. She took the plunge in a barrel four and a half feet high and three feet in diameter. It was later discovered that Taylor couldn't swim.

East Junior High Happenings

By Jennifer Tucker and Tracy Lasch

This year, two groups have been planned to keep our school clean. The first group, consisting of seventh and eighth graders, is coordinated by our assistant principal, John B. Hughes. The second group, the ninth grade, is coordinated by two members of our student council, Dave Casanave and Scott Lattanzio. In smaller divisions of nine and ten, students take care of odd jobs such as sweeping the auditorium, locker rooms and stairwells as well as cleaning the cafeteria. Mr. Hughes says, "We feel it is up to the students to take some responsibility for the cleanliness of the school."

This week the soccer team played two games. Wednesday they played Brooks School. Thahn Nguyen scored the first goal on an assist from David Eckman. John Drake scored on a pass from Thahn Nguyen. Barry Tucker scored on an assist from Han Wook Kang and then, in the fourth quarter Barry Tucker scored again, unassisted, to make it four to two.

On Friday the team played the Methuen freshmen in an exciting rematch. The score was five to one in favor of East with Mark Asgierrson, Barry Tucker, John Drake and Thahn Nguyen all scoring unassisted goals while Mark Paskowsky scored on a fantastic pass from Lisa Marcella. The whole team played an outstanding game, but Craig Ziady (goalie), David Webster (defense), John Recesso (half-back) and Lisa Marcella (offense) played exceptionally well.

Our football team played against Greater Lowell on Thursday winning by a score of 14-6. Alan Long and Tom Lutz both played exceptionally well and scored the touchdowns. Other players turning in good performances were Scott Lattanzio, Scott Gibson, Rob Nelson and Eric Delourty.

Another new member of our staff here at East is Mr. Brian McNally of the Health Department. Along with health classes, Mr. McNally teaches CPR for the ninth graders. We are sorry to have mistakenly omitted him in last week's article. We wish him good luck this year at East!

Tomorrow, Oct. 16, will be East Pride Day. We will have a pep rally and dance. The students are asked to wear blue and gold and their "East Pride" buttons. Football and soccer games will be played tomorrow as well so come out and support your teams!

Reception For AFS Students

A reception for foreign students currently living in Andover and North Andover and attending Andover High School, North Andover High School and Phillips Academy will be held Thursday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library.

This annual event, sponsored by the American Field Service and Memorial Hall Library, commemorates the founding on Oct. 24, 1945, of the United Nations organization and its purpose—"to develop friendly relations among nations." Mrs. Patricia Dye, Andover High School social studies teacher, will be the featured speaker. She will share her impressions and slides of her recent trip to China as a Fulbright scholar. Of particular interest will be the appearance of this year's local AFS students: Tanya Melo of Brazil, Harold Eliassen of Norway, Marei Gumpel of Germany and Liz Molteberg of Norway. Lee Kirkwood, president of the Andover chapter of AFS, will serve as host assisted by Mrs. Janet Rosenbaum, president of the North Andover chapter. Refreshments will be served following the program.

All townspeople are invited to attend the reception and welcome the many students from foreign lands studying in our area.

Financial Seminar

The new tax law has as many complexities as it has benefits, according to Mark A. Mershon and J. Robert Mershon, CLU, local representatives for IDS (Investors Diversified Services), the nationwide financial services firm.

The Mershons will explain some of those complexities as part of a financial and estate planning seminar to be held on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the Sheraton Rolling Green Inn and Conference Center, Route 133, Andover. Also included in the seminar will be ideas on money management to help a person reach financial goals.

Many people may want to "rethink" current tax shelters since the lowering of the tax rates may put a person in a lower tax bracket, thus reducing the need for tax-exempt income.

The Mershons work out of the IDS office at 25 Kenzo Ave., Haverhill. The seminar is free, but reservations are recommended. To reserve a seat at the seminar, contact the Mershons.

YMCA Scuba

Instructional Co-Ed Scuba Classes will be held at the Greater Lawrence YMCA Downtown Branch, 40 Lawrence St., beginning Thursday, Oct. 15, at 7:30 p.m. Classes will be held on Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. for nine weeks. Students must be at least 15 years of age, in good condition and be able to pass a swim test. Those successfully passing the course will receive a YMCA National Scuba certification. Registrations will be accepted the night of the first class. For further information, contact the YMCA business office, 40 Lawrence St., Lawrence.

St. Robert's School Plans Year's Program

On their first field trip of the school year, students of St. Robert's Country Day School visited a local apple orchard where they learned the correct way to pick apples (and also bumped into a few "Great Pumpkins" on the way).

Many events are planned for this year including the annual trip to the dairy farm and a special weekly music hour given by Mrs. Warren Kearn. Also new this year is the Monday Enrichment Day program with many exciting projects planned.

Pupils registered for the 1981-82 school year include: Mini-Nursery: David Beaudry, Jason Bellorado, Kristen Brady, Jennifer Cardon, Stephanie Clark, Elizabeth

D'Elia, Sean Fitzgerald, Jason Flynn, Matthew Garland, Taylor Gleason, Ryan Hadley, Andrew Henderson, Julia Henderson, Sarah Kaleel, Michael Kelly, Kristy Marsh, Michael Massaro, Mark O'Brien, Kealy O'Connor, James Rita, David Salafia, Dana Swenson and Eric Yu.

Regular Nursery: Andrew Ardini, Amy Baker, Martha Barrett, Jamie Barron, Lisa Cincotta, Sean Croteau, Melissa Cunningham, Timothy Dolan, Anne Driscoll, Christine Durant, Melissa Famiglietti, Jennifer Farris, Christopher Filosi, Timothy Foley, Thomas Gawlik, Christopher Graham, Ellen Keaney, Marissa Lynch, Adam Martin, Courtney McCabe, Kevin McLaughlin, Ricardo Mendez, Allyson Miller, Maura Paone, James Pietryka, Beth Picardi, Kristen Powers, Laurie Sermos, Jeffrey Shea, Katherine Stoehrer, Joan Sunderland, Emily Winters and Kimberly Young.

Maxi-Nursery: Christina Babine, Karrie Becker, David Burke, Karen Castignoli, Jessica Ferreira, Daniel Hartley, Alexandra Kise, Brian O'Neill, Kenneth Oppenheim, Kimberly Schelling, Ann Windnagel and Patrick Winters.

St. Robert's is sponsoring the second in a series of three "Positive Parenting" workshops. The next session will be held on Monday, Oct. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the school located on Haggetts Pond Road. The topic will be "How to Handle Children's Negative Feelings." The lecture will be followed by a group discussion. There will be a small admission charge and refreshments will be served. The last session is scheduled for Jan. 18 when the topic will be "Family Communications."

Halloween Dance At Central

On Saturday Oct. 17, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., the Central Catholic Marist Womens' Guild will hold a Halloween Dance in the school gymnasium. Dancing will be to the music of DJ Benny Cordischi. Coffee and desserts will be served after 11 p.m.

Tickets will be available at the door, or through Louise LaChance, Lawrence; Lois Sheehan, Tewksbury; Bro. John Malachy, CCHS.

The Womens' Guild of Central Catholic High School, Lawrence, will be sponsoring a complete Pancake Breakfast on Sunday, Oct. 25, 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the school gym. Tickets are available by calling the school or at the door.

Mountain lion habitat in the western hemisphere extends from Alberta to the southern tip of Chile. Before 1960 most people in this country wanted lions to be killed off. By 1973 all western states, except Texas, classified lions as game animals, which protects them by means of hunting and seasons for hunting according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Western Round-Up

By Kristen James

Activities at West Junior High got off to a great start this year. Our school has elected students to the football team, soccer team, field hockey team, cheering squad and pep club. Other activities offered are: drama club, math league and debating club. The school newspaper staff is preparing for its first edition of West Side Story which will be published in November.

On Friday, the football team was defeated by Lawrence. The field hockey team won in a match at Brooks. The soccer team, however, lost to Brooks.

Student Government officers were chosen last week at West. Those elected were Amy Moynihan, student body president; Lissa Quinlin, vice president; Sandy Saba, treasurer; and Lisa Gagliardi, secretary.

West is getting ready for an open house on Thursday evening, Oct. 15, at 7 p.m. Parents are cordially invited.

Students and faculty are looking forward to a good year at Andover West Junior High.

Exploring Local Environment

ExpLorE (Environmental Learning Experience) is an activity-based instruction program at West Junior High designed to provide students with opportunities to explore the various environments of their local community.

Activities are conducted on the school grounds and surrounding areas, with particular attention given to the nearby Indian Ridge and Bakers' Meadow AVIS properties. Instruction is planned to help students learn how to recognize, understand and make the proper observations.

On the trails, most of the time is spent exploring, observing and collecting. Frequent stops are also made in order for students to write or listen. Often, talking, even whispering, is discouraged. However, this outdoor education enrichment course is geared to "hands on" learning activities that are both fun and challenging to junior high school students.

Eighth grade students participating in this program each Wednesday to help them better understand and appreciate the ecological relationships in their local environment are Earl Abdoo, Phillip Boulanger, Gail Burke, Laura Cervone, Debbie Clinton, Debbie Cookson, Tom DeLeire, Maura Dunn, Lisa Froburg, Amy Heartquist, Russell Henderson, Stuart Leinson, Leah Lury, Courtney Manning, Robert Mattedi, Kelly McCann, Kim McGinley, Lisa Oberst, Allison Reghito, Kristen Robinson, Andy Schulz, John Tomlinson and Angie Van DerWielen. Students are under the supervision of Jay Darrin and Les Taylor.

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of the Massachusetts Music Teachers' Association will meet Oct. 18 at 2 p.m. at the home of Betty Daddigan, 18 Windsor Street in Lowell. There will be discussion and demonstrations of "Pick-Me-Ups for Students in the Doldrums." Entertainment by the Tuesday Night Live recorder group promises to be stimulating fun.

Upcoming events of MMTA will include the state convention of the Music Teachers' National Association November 14 and 15 to be held in Lowell at Lowell University.

MMTA welcomes teachers of any area of music. For more information contact Barbara Sands, 125 Whittemore St., Tewksbury, or Betty Daddigan in Lowell.

The Last Question

Leonard Nimoy narrates this startling show about the end of the universe at the Hayden Planetarium (at the Museum of Science) Friday nights at 8:45 and 10 and Saturday nights at 7:30, 8:45 and 10.

West PTO Seeking Membership

The West Elementary School begins its membership contest at the Open House which is an adult evening and will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 21, 7 p.m., Grades K-3; Thursday, Oct. 22, 7 p.m., Grades 4-6.

This is an opportunity for parents to visit the children's classrooms and also have a tour of the building.

The membership contest is being held to raise money to support PTO functions, such as cultural events and purchases for the school; flags, picnic tables, etc.

One trophy per grade will be awarded to the homeroom with the highest percentage membership. A pizza party will be held for the two top homerooms in K-3 and 4-6.

Sjostrom In Concert In Methuen

Ivar Sjostrom will present an organ and piano program of favorite classics on Oct. 23 at 8:30 p.m. at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall as part of the Fall Variety Concert Series. Proceeds of the concert will be added to a fund established to award scholarships to graduating high school seniors who plan to major in music at college.

Sjostrom, director of Music Emeritus of the Second Church in Newton has given many recitals at the Music Hall and is currently organist at the Unitarian-Universalist Church in Andover. For his program he has selected: Toccata and Fugue in d minor and Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring, Johann Sebastian Bach; Trumpet Voluntary, Jeremiah Clarke; A Tune for the Flutes, Thomas Arne; Waltz in A-flat, Johannes Brahms; Nocturne in a minor, Edvard Grieg; Lotus Land, Cyril Scott; Polonaise in A Major, Frederic Chopin; Suite from the Water Music, George Frederic Handel; The Stars and Stripes Forever, John Philip Sousa; Largo, George Frideric Handel; Ave Maria, Franz Schubert; Waltz of the Flowers, Peter Ilyich Tchaikowsky; Gothic Suite, Leon Boellmann.

Methuen Memorial Music Hall is located on Broadway, Methuen, (Route 28) on the banks of the Spicket River.

to deal with the needs of disabled person. One out of ten children born in the world suffers from blindness to cerebral palsy to mental retardation. The problems of disabled children especially have been aggravated by long-standing ignorance and superstition. Any one at any time can also become disabled from illness, accident or advancing age.

Memorial Hall Library, in observing the International Year of Disabled Persons, is displaying materials about various kinds of disabilities—how to deal with them or prevent them, equipment designed to aid the disabled to lead more normal lives—and two booklists, one for children, one for adults, on understanding and coping with disability.

King Kong At The Library

The original 1933 all-time classic "King Kong" will be shown at Memorial Hall Library on Friday, Oct. 16, at 7:30 p.m. Starring Fay Wray as the lady pursued by the giant ape, this film is the third in the library's Friday Film Series which are open to the public at no charge. On Oct. 23 the feature will be Alfred Hitchcock's

"Suspicion" with Cary Grant and Joan Fontaine.

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

The weekly film program for pre-schoolers on Friday, Oct. 16, will present "Casey at the Bat," "Mole and the TV Set," and "The Most Amazing Cat." This 1/2 hour program will be shown at 10:30 a.m. and again at 2 p.m.

With Halloween just around the corner, the Children's Room is featuring books on ghosts, black cats and goblins.

Teaching, Coaching In California

Henry Zussman

Henry Zussman of Andover has been appointed assistant athletic director and is teaching junior high world geography at Ojai Valley School in Southern California.

A 1971 graduate of Andover High and Bridgton Academy (1972) he went on to graduate from Northeastern University in 1977. Zussman also serves as a dormitory "parent" and coaches soccer.

Before going to the Ojai Valley School, a private boarding academy and college prep school founded in 1911, Zussman taught and coached at The Bubbling Brook School and the Winchendon School.

He began work in Ojai (pronounced O-hi) this year in the school's summer camp, a challenging academic and recreational program held on its two campuses.

"With a tradition of integrating physical exercise, manual skills and academic pursuits in the overall program, Ojai Valley School is fortunate to have teachers like Henry," says Headmaster Philip Bryan, newly arrived from Oxford.

Zussman enjoys the area for its year-round good weather but misses his favorite sport—hockey, having served as an assistant coach at University of Lowell.

Still the OVS program of English and Western riding, soccer, tennis, golf and the usual team sports offers him enough outlets for his athletic interests.

Zussman says, "I've been really fortunate in having guidance from many coaches and teachers in the Andover school system and at Bridgton; but during my post-graduate year at Bridgton, a coach explained to me that the concentration I put into my favorite sport could be applied to work in the classroom.

"That was the beginning of my interest in education. I like the OVS philosophy, the continuity of faculty and administrators, the highly structured campus life in and out of the classroom. There are all types of students here—from movie celebrities' children, to the kids next door. What they have in common is that they're all highly motivated. Whether they have outstanding top ability or average ability, learning is important enough to them to make a real effort."

Ojai Valley School has a capacity of 250 boys and girls in the third through the twelfth grades.

Kittery Museum

"Tools Which Shaped Kittery" is a special exhibit at the Kittery Historical and Naval Museum, Kittery (Maine) Town Hall on Rodgers Road. Ongoing exhibits include 19th and 20th century toys, navigation instruments, ship models from the Portsmouth Navy Shipyard. Tuesday through Saturday, 10 to 5. Closed holidays.

Steaks Cost More

From May to June food costs in the U.S. rose most significantly in the meats, poultry, fish and eggs categories. The greatest price advances were recorded for porterhouse steak, up 15.3 cents. T-bone steak, up 7.9 cents and pork chops, up 7 cents.

Andover Garden Club Acclaimed In Horticulture

Janet Brink, 1980-81 Horticulture Chairman of the Andover Garden Club, presented the Evelyn D. Cronin Award for Horticulture to Mrs. Lois Simmonds, Garden Club president, at the first meeting of the Andover Garden Club on Oct. 6 at South Church.

The Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc. recently selected the horticulture program of the Andover Garden Club as the outstanding example of horticulture programming in the state of Massachusetts.

This program, devised and executed by Mrs. Brink and her committee, included a campaign to combat gypsy moth infestation, a trip to the Arnold Arboretum, a series of horticulture workshops, and monthly mini-talks on bulbs, plants and flowers.

The gypsy moth program, a timely outreach to besieged Andover residents, was offered in conjunction with Memorial Hall Library. A film from the Massachusetts Audubon Society and a lecture by certified arborist Henry Davis highlighted this educational evening in March.

Committee members who contributed actively to this dynamic program included: Mrs. Edwin Bullimore, Mrs. John Boshar, Mrs. Frank Drozdick, Mrs. Joseph Finn, Mrs. Norman C. Frost, Mrs. Timothy Hatch, Mrs. Henry M. O'Bryan, Mrs. Robert Roen, Mrs. Thomas Simmonds, Jr., Mrs. Charles Sullivan, Mrs. Vincent Suozzo, Mrs. Dean Swan, and Mrs. Adeline M. Wright.

Membership Brunch For AAUW Group

A Membership Brunch will be held Saturday, Oct. 17, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. by the Andover-Georgetown Branch of the American Association of University Women in the Function Room of the Lawrence Savings Bank, Shawsheen Square, Andover, at the intersection of Routes 133 and 28.

The branch plans regular programs, based on its study topics and ongoing areas of interest. The study topics for 1981-83 are "Money Talks" and "Taking Hold of Technology." Areas of interests include the community, education, international relations, cultural interests, legislation and equity for women. Special projects are implemented each year by the branch and state division. Presently an Infant to Toddler Parent education course is being sponsored by the local branch. Massachusetts State Division AAUW will hold an open conference on the issue of technology, "How Does Technology Grab You," on Saturday, Oct. 24, at the Bristol Community College, Fall River.

There are 24 branches of AAUW in Massachusetts and 190,000 members in the United States, Guam and Puerto Rico.

For more information about the membership brunch or AAUW, call Kathy Callagy, Lawrence, or Pat Gorton, Georgetown.

To Present Program On Flowers, Antiques

On Thursday evening, Oct. 22, the Village Garden Club will present Mrs. Grace Desjardin, T.V. and garden show lecturer and award-winning designer, who will offer a program of insights into the varied and colorful world of antiques and flowers.

Mrs. Desjardin, who grew up in Wellesley, is married to Robert Desjardin, a well known architectural designer and authority on period restoration. Working together they have developed an antique business which has burgeoned into Gallerie Desjardin, a collectors' source for fine antiques. One of their finds, a Philadelphia Sheraton chair was recently auctioned by Sotheby, Park Bernet for $47,500.

For their own pleasure, the Desjardins have studied and collected antique jewelry dating from as early as the 17th century. Mrs. Desjardin draws on her own collections and the many resources at her disposal to present fascinating lectures on a wide variety of subjects related to her field. Having so many containers to work with and such a wide knowledge of period design, she has also become an expert on period flower arranging and is the only three-time winner of the Marie Hancock Cook award.

This program takes place at South Church, Central Street, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited and tickets may be purchased from members of the Village Garden Club or at the door.

Overweight?

SO WAS I...

But that was before I heard about Diet Center!

Both my wife and daughter had been successful at Diet Center. When I learned that they also had a weight-loss program for men, I decided to give it a try. That was the best decision I've ever made!

When I came to Diet Center, I weighed over 314 pounds.

I had tried several other ways to lose weight, but none of them worked like Diet Center's!

I LOST
80 POUNDS
IN JUST 16 WEEKS!

I was never hungry and my energy level zoomed. What's more important, I learned how to keep those excess pounds off for good!

That was over a year ago, and I'm still at my ideal weight.

1000th Appeal Logged Under Public Record Law

Secretary of State Michael Joseph Connolly reports his office has logged in the 1000th appeal for a public record under the state's revised Public Records Law. The four-year-old law provides an appeals process with the Secretary of State's Supervisor of Public Records for citizens who are denied access to government records.

"Though the law is still relatively new, it has been responsible for major public disclosures. Our decisions have opened police logs, released the names and addresses of delinquent taxpayers, disclosed the names of laid-off public employees to the press and provided access to the salaries of public employees", Connolly said.

The Secretary noted that other decisions have opened records of local boards of assessors, municipal budget records and meeting minutes of various boards for citizen inspection.

According to Connolly, fewer appeals of these types are now received since the early rulings established precedents. Occasionally, however, a case will still come up.

"It takes time", the Secretary said, "for information on previous determinations to filter down to all records custodians. Also, there are times when unique circumstances don't fall within the scope of previous determinations and require a more definitive ruling."

"The Secretary of State holds the dual responsibility of safeguarding the public's right to know and insuring the privacy rights of individuals. And I see our 1000th case as a milestone proving that the system works", Connolly said.

The historic 1000th case filed yesterday by the Massachusetts Law Reform Institute of Boston requested certain records from the Department of Public Welfare's Project Good Health.

Of the cases filed with the Secretary's Office, some are requests from state agency officials who want advice to determine if a particular record is public. Many other petitioners are journalists who in the course of their research were denied a record. Still, others are citizens wanting information they believe affects them.

The 1977 public records law, a product of the post Watergate era, holds that all records made or received by a government agency are public records with a few exceptions. It is up to the record keeper to prove an exemption from the law. Most determinations made by the Supervisor of Public Records are accepted by both parties, and few are litigated in the courts, according to division case histories.

"The next four years will be a period of fine-tuning the definition of a public record with fewer new cases expected as we work toward a more open and responsive government", Connolly predicted.

Seminar Series At Church

"Spirit Alive" is the title of a new series of seminars focusing on spiritual growth to begin Thursday, Oct. 22, at West Parish Church.

The first seminar, entitled "Exploring Soul Country," features journal writing. The leader is Rev. Nancy M. Klassen. The five-week seminar will look at the hows and whys of journal writing. Participants will have the opportunity to begin personal journals. The focus will be on the life of the soul, exploring its mountains and valleys, springs of living water, wells run dry, as well as its natural and man-made wonders. Published classics in journal writing and soul journeying will be referred to. There will be an opportunity to explore journal writing one-to-one with the seminar leader.

The coordinator and primary instructor of the series is the Rev. Nancy M. Klassen, West Parish coordinator/consultant in lay ministry. She is former associate minister at West Parish. Rev. Klassen's emphasis in ministry is spiritual direction. She is associated with Andover-Newton Theological School's Laity Project and an instructor in their School of Theology for Laity. She is the primary resource person behind the United Church of Christ's Thirteenth General Synod's pre-nouncement on "Empowering the Laity for Ministry." Rev. Klassen is a consultant on the Massachusetts Conference of the United Church of Christ's Parish Self-Appraisal Team.

The seminars are for members of the community as well as West Parish Church. Registration for the seminar, "Exploring Soul Country," beginning Oct. 22, 7:30 p.m., as well as a brochure describing the year-long series, can be had by calling the West Parish office weekdays between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at 475-3528.

Scout Project

Scott Bertetti, 24 Brady Loop, shares a moment with two-year old Michael James, 5 Hartford Circle, at the table and cabinet which he designed and built for the Greater Lawrence Early Intervention Program at Christ Church. Scott is a member of Troop 77 and a sophomore at Phillips Academy. The project was part of his work toward an Eagle Scout designation.

Cellist Guest At Gala

Cellist Leslie Parnas, who trained under Gregor Piatigorsky at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, was the feature artist at the tenth anniversary celebration held recently for Rabbi Everett Gendler of Temple Emanuel of Merrimack Valley, 101 West Forest St., Lowell.

One of Rabbi Gendler's favorite musical performers as well as a personal friend, Parnas played Bach, Suite No. 3 in C Major; Paul Hindemith's Sonata for Cello, Op. 25, No. 3 and Back's Suite No. 6 in D Major.

A native of St. Louis, Parnas is currently professor of music at Boston University and director of the Kneisel Hall Chamber Music School in Blue Hill, Maine. In addition to appearances with orchestras in the U.S. and abroad and solo recitals, he plays regularly with the Lincoln Center Chamber Music Society of New York. He was invited regularly by Pablo Casals to play at the Casals Festivals in Prades and Puerto Rico. Parnas records for three major labels and has recently completed a new recording of the complete Beethoven Sonatas.

The concert was followed by a presentation of appreciation to Rabbi Gendler, a reception and a buffet.

Conference

"Humanities for the 1980s," a conference about the place of the humanities in the training and careers of professionals in education, business, health care, and science, will be held Oct. 27-29 in Boston.

Sponsored by the Northeastern University Center for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) in cooperation with the John F. Kennedy Library, the three-day event will bring together three members of President Ronald Reagan's task force on the arts and humanities

FAMILY LIFE ASSURANCE

What makes a healthy family? Communication... respect... trust... honesty... acceptance... forgiveness... discipline... supportive friends... devotion... commitment... love.

Sounds remarkably spiritual, doesn't it? Life brings the better or worse, richer or poorer but we bring the beliefs and behaviors which build, not destroy.

South Church is a family church. We build up the family's resources and help put faith to work. Faith is still the best family life assurance policy.

Join us for a 'family reunion' with Christ, your brother, and God, your Father, this Sunday morning.

Group To Conduct Flea Mart

On Sunday, Oct. 18, the Distributive Ed students of Andover High School will sponsor a flea market to earn money for DECA (Dist. Ed. clubs of America) competitions. The flea market will run from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. with many items at giveaway prices. Hamburgers, drinks and pastry will be available. There will also be a car wash. Rain date will be Oct. 25.

The DECA competitions are in marketing and salesmanship. Should a student make it to the state level, money is needed to finance a three-day trip to Cape Cod for the competition.

Distributive Ed was brought to the high school by Mrs. Rosamond Bastable, head of the business department, and is taught by George Spanos.

Another way the D.E. students earn money is through the Cage, the school store run by students, where mints, school supplies, jewelry, mugs and some kinds of clothing are sold.

California has about 2,000 mountain lions on 72,000 square miles of lion habitat, mostly in the coastal range. Since 1971 California has prohibited all lion hunting. Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

"La Ronde"

Arthur Schnitzler's "La Ronde" will open Brandeis University's 1981-82 Spingold Theater season Wednesday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m.

The French satire will be directed by Charles Werner Moore, a professor of theater arts at Brandeis and an actor who has appeared in scores of productions throughout New England.

Following opening night, the remaining performances will be: Oct. 15-17, 23-24 at 8 p.m.; Oct. 18, 7 p.m.; and Oct. 21-22, 10 a.m. All seats are $5, except for morning performance tickets which are $3.

Among the cast members of "La Ronde" will be Daniel Gidron of Natick, an artist-in-residents at Brandeis. Gidron, an accomplished performer and director, will state the December opening of Howard Brenton's "Weapons of Happiness" at Spingold.

from Boston University in 1979 with a degree in Thanatology, the study of death and dying. She lives in Andover with her husband, Dick, and 2½ year old daughter, Alexis.

Hospice of Massachusetts delivers hospice care to the terminally ill and their families in Chelsea, Revere, East Boston, Winthrop, Beacon Hill, Charlestown and the North End. Organized in 1976, Hospice of Massachusetts is the oldest hospice in this state. Many hospitals and communities have developed hospice programs of their own in the last five years. The Federation of Hospices, a statewide network and directory of hospice groups, has a listing of hospices delivering care or organizing in the state. They can be contacted through the Hospice of the Good Shepherd, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Newton.

Doherty Block Work Begins

With a boost from the fine weather of recent days, the three-part school building construction project is moving along "smoothly," Project Manager William Mansell reported yesterday.

At the Doherty School, being converted into a junior high, the last concrete has been poured this week, and block work has been started, the project manager said. Brick work will start the following week, and steel has been delivered for the steel structure work.

Also underway at Doherty are the interior electrical work, plumbing installation and duct work, Mansell said. He added that installation of a new gas line to Doherty would probably be started by the end of this week.

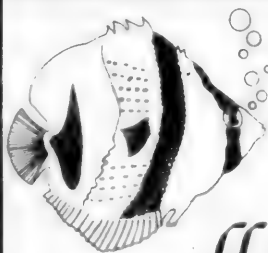

At West Junior High, where a new library (I.M.C.) will be built and classroom space renovated, remaining footings will be in within a week, and that will "finish all the footings," Mansell said.

And today or tomorrow, 130 yards of concrete were scheduled to be poured at Andover High School for interior walls. A new auditorium will be built at the high school, along with classroom renovations and additions.

The $13.72 million project is in the hands of contractor Peabody Construction of Braintree, while school playing fields will be renovated by Meola Construction.

The school building committee will meet with the school committee at 7:30 tonight at the water treatment plant to discuss phase two of the equipment budget for the building project.

Decide Not To Appeal Condo Rejection

Capt. Lloyd Belbin

Lt. John Kevin Lynch

Lt. Richard Enos

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Four months after the attorney general ruled Andover's new condominium conversion bylaw illegal, the selectmen have decided to drop their appeal against that ruling and let the AG's decision stand.

The conversion of apartment units into condominiums may now continue free of local regulation, to the relief of many residents of Washington Park, a former apartment complex recently converted into condos.

The selectmen emerged from a brief executive session Tuesday night at Town Hall to announce their decision to a group of about 20 townspeople, most of them Washington Park tenants or prospective condo buyers.

After a ten-minute closed-door discussion, Selectmen Edward Harris, Susan Poore and Chairman Norma Gammon voted to drop their appeal; Donn Byrne voted present and Jerry Silverman abstained.

The board has been considering dropping the court case against Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti's ruling for two months. Their decision was delayed when the selectmen questioned how their appeal tied into the town's zoning bylaw.

"We wondered if we would be putting you into trouble with the zoning bylaw," Chairman Gammon told the residents. "We just wanted to be sure we weren't putting you from the frying pan into the fire."

Both Town Counsel Alfred Daniels and Special Town Counsel Thomas Arnold were "very concerned" about the zoning bylaw question, Gammon explained, but had differing opinions on how dropping the appeal would affect the zoning laws.

The final word was that there was "no legal issue with our zoning bylaw," the chairman said.

Andover has no land zoned specifically for condominiums, and town meeting has defeated condo zone proposals twice during the past year. The apartment zone is currently full.

Seven Officers Presented In Historic Police Promotions

In what he called "a first" for Andover, Police Chief James Johnson Tuesday night presented the selectmen with seven members of the Police Department to be promoted, and two new patrolmen to be appointed.

"I am very proud to present these men to you," Johnson told the board. "They will definitely be an asset to the town. This is a first, to have seven promotions all at one time."

The selectmen unanimously approved the promotions of Lloyd W. Belbin to the newly-created position of police captain; Robert B. Parker, Richard W. Enos and John Kevin Lynch to lieutenants, including one new position; and Donald G. Mooers, John P. Houlihan and Steven C. Avery to sergeants.

The board also unanimously approved the appointments of Steven P. Martellini and Dennis J. Lane as new officers.

All nine will be sworn in at 9 a.m. Monday at Town Hall, and the public is invited to attend, the police chief said.

Congratulating the promoted officers, Chairman Norma Gammon told them, "I'm sure you will continue to do an outstanding job for us."

And acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi said that during his tenure as acting manager, he was glad to have had a hand in helping Johnson select and appoint the "new brass."

"This is an exciting step for the town," Torrisi said. "These are men who have made a commitment to the town, who have done a good job and are being recognized for that. I'm glad to have been a part of that."

Capt. Belbin is an Andover resident who has served with the Andover police since October 1967. He served as a lieutenant for eight years, and as a sergeant for two years before that. A Wilmington native, he attended Wilmington schools and has taken courses at Merrimack College and Northern Essex Community College.

Trip To France

A Positive Experience But Some Memories Are Unpleasant

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Andover's first attempt to send a group of exchange students to France last spring resulted in botched travel arrangements, and months later recriminations are still being exchanged between angry Andover families and the French organization that planned the students' stay.

The two-week trip, however, was a "very positive" experience for the 31 students who finally made it to France, and the school department hopes to offer more foreign exchange programs in the future, according to the assistant superintendent.

"It is something we really want to do again," Assistant Superintendent Charles Mitsakos says. "It's a great experience for youngsters to have, and we're really optimistic about continuing the program in the future."

The idea behind the exchange program is to send language students to a foreign country to attend classes in a "village school, to give them a really intensive experience in the language," Mitsakos says.

Students live with host families during their stay, both to save money and to help them experience the culture, he adds, "so they'll be treated as French teenagers, instead of as tourists." The American students go to school with their host brother or sister.

In exchange, foreign students stay with Andover families, and go to Andover High School classes with their local counterparts.

A group of Andover students traveled to Germany last year, with arrangements made by the Goethe Institute, and that trip "went off with German precision," Mitsakos says. "You can't believe how smooth it was."

This year's trip to France was far from smooth. Arrangements were made through the Cambridge office of a French non-profit organization called Didac, which the school department chose after consulting the French embassy in Boston.

Repeated misunderstandings between Andover and Didac's French office nearly led to the cancellation of the entire trip. But airline tickets had already been purchased, and the students would have been so disappointed by a cancellation that Andover made alternative arrangements, the assistant superintendent says.

What went wrong? Mitsakos attributes the problem to a lack of communication between Didac's Cambridge and French offices. Their Cambridge representative encouraged Andover to recruit as many students as possible — "We were told the more kids, the better" — right up until March 15, a month before the students were to leave for France.

But according to a September 18 letter from Didac's Mme J.F. Berry in Marnes-la-Coquette, France, in defense of Didac, the French office had to scramble to revise its arrangements as the Andover group continued to grow from eight, to 20, and finally to 31.

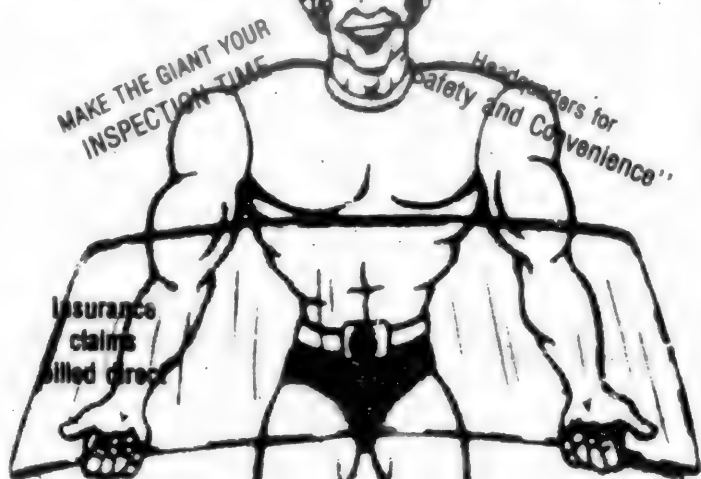

The Cambridge representative — who is no longer with the organization — assured

The Waste Of Vandalism

All too often this space is devoted to commentary on vandalism, its expense and its total waste.

While at times it seems frustrating to continually harp on the subject, it still remains a necessity, in view of the continuing efforts of some in the community whose total concentration seems to be on the destruction of private and public property.

Within the past month there has been another outbreak of vandalism, causing considerable expense and waste of time and effort on the part of municipal employees who must leave more important and more timely tasks to clean up and repair the mess left by wanton acts of stupidity.

This past week vandals caused considerable damage to Recreation Park.

Turf was torn up throughout the area through the use of four-wheel vehicles. Tennis nets were ripped from their stanchions, playing fields torn up, boulders moved around and the head of a water bubbler broken off resulting in the loss of hundreds of gallons of water.

Rec Park has provided enjoyable recreational activity for hundreds of Andover residents throughout the year. The tennis area has been a most popular place for devotees of the sport, who now will be denied use of the facilities through the loss of the nets.

The Community Services Department, which is in charge of Rec Park is, like all other municipal departments, operating under budgetary constraints, and replacement of the nets, as well as making other repairs within the facility, must be put off until such time as departmental finances can be examined to see if funds can be applied.

Meanwhile, municipal employees are assigned to clean up and make what repairs they can to the recreational area, in order to put it into some semblance of usefulness for town residents.

Prior to that weekend escapade, vandals have been assigned the responsibility for the Stowe School fire. An early Sunday morning conflagration destroyed the old building just as wreckers had begun the task of tearing it down to make way for the new junior high school under construction nearby.

One might suppose that the persons responsible could have assumed that the building was worthless, in view of its pending demolition.

But, in setting it afire, they failed to consider that the wrecking company which had bid on the project, had planned on some salvage, which was lost in the fire.

Nor, did they consider the cost involved in putting the fire out, which included calling in off-duty firefighters who are paid overtime, the amount of fuel and energy consumed by the fire apparatus in bringing the fire under control, and the need to call in assistance from surrounding communities while Andover firefighters remained at the scene for several hours.

Administrators and officials involved in the total school building project are now rightfully concerned about the possibility of further vandalism on the three construction sites.

As they review the project and assess the possibilities of increased building costs due to the possibility of vandalism, they express concern, as well as the promise that any persons apprehended for involvement in illegal activity at the construction sites can anticipate full prosecution as provided by law.

It is, of course, unfortunate that such steps are necessary, or that even warning need be issued.

But, it is an indication of the times in which we live, and why from time to time, and too frequently, we must take the time to point out the virtual waste and expense which vandalism brings to the community.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — October 1906

F.H. Howard of Boston has been engaged to furnish the entertainment at the annual concert and ball to be held by the Andover Steam Fire Engine company on Thanksgiving Eve in the Town hall. The entertainment will consist of a new series of moving pictures.

David O'Connell, the popular goal-keeper of the local football club, has taken up a new position with the Steam Laundry and the football club will lose his services.

While workmen were engaged in remodeling the Blake house on Abbot street, recently purchased by N.E. Bartlet, they came upon a colony of bees among the rafters under the eaves. George Mears hived the bees and took out nearly 100 pounds of honey.

At a hearing held in the Town house on Monday afternoon, permission was given the New England Telephone and Telegraph company to erect poles and wires on Chestnut street from Bartlet to Main streets.

Dr. Tim J. Cullinane, an Andover boy and son of Jeremiah Cullinane of Ridge street, has opened an office in the Draper building and will practice medicine in this town. His office is on the second floor of the building and has been nicely furnished.

50 Years Ago — October 1931

What Andover is the fourth largest town in Essex County with a population of 9,969 was revealed this week by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, in its latest publication of the composition and character of the population of Massachusetts.

A mistake in figuring the tax rate has been discovered this week and although the tax rate might have been fifty cents less than the $24.20 which it has now been set at, it is improbable that the Board of Assessors of Andover will adjust the difference caused by the error for it can be carried over to next year as extra cash. It involves an amount close to $9,000.

For the first time since the World War, when they donated their proceeds to the men overseas, the Firemen's Relief association of Andover will donate the funds they collect from their annual ball to be held at the Town Hall Thanksgiving eve to the needy of the town. Tickets are now on sale at $1 for each couple.

According to the latest information, the ballots on the telephone question will go out to Andover subscribers tomorrow, Saturday, for them to decide whether they wish to retain the present Andover area with toll charges to Lawrence, or whether they wish to combine Andover with Lawrence and eliminate the toll charges.

Wearing brand new jerseys and stockings for the first time this season, the Punchard high school football team will take on the hardest opponent of the season tomorrow afternoon at the local gridiron when Amesbury high school comes to Andover intent upon defeating the local players.

25 Years Ago — October 1956

West Andover parents have registered their great dissatisfaction over delays in completing the West school addition. At a meeting last week more than 150 parents attended a P.T.A. meeting which considered the double sessions and the reasons for the long drawn out building program. Many parents pointed out that four to six weeks should be enough time to finish the job if the rate of work could be boosted.

Rezoning to acre lots will go into the special town meeting Oct. 22 without wholehearted Planning Board approval. That board split, two-to-two, over the proposed change from Zone B to Zone C in West Andover.

The Taxpayers association has approved the South school special article of $885,000 and the sewage article for $25,000 associated with it. But the association has not agreed with the school committee on a building committee for the school.

Gala Olympic week activities will start bright and early Saturday morning. And from the 9 a.m. starting time through the following week, there will be nearly constant activity designed to support the Olympics financially and to reacquaint all citizens with the Olympic code. National-known sports stars will demonstrate their ability and professional basketball will help swell the fund. Junior Olympics will be staged too.

Water department crews were busy Oct. 3 as an entire 16-foot section of the 12-inch main on Haggett's Pond road burst. Engineer Ralph Preble said a report of water pressure dropping to 10 pounds at the pumping station was the first inkling of trouble, followed swiftly by telephone calls from residents. A large section of River Road was without water because the pipe is a major carrying line for that section.

10 Years Ago — October 1971

John Mason Kemper, headmaster of Phillips Academy, announced his retirement yesterday, effective immediately, for health reasons. Kemper, 59, underwent major chest surgery last February, and has suffered from a painful back ailment recently. "In fact, I am no longer your headmaster," he told a shocked student body, and announced the appointment of Dean Simeon Hyde as acting headmaster.

Traffic signals, including the controversial no right turn sign in the municipal parking lot will await the results of studies now underway by consultants. State authorities are currently studying Main street from Shawsheen Square to Phillips Academy and will make recommendations.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

What a lovely way to spend a Sunday! On October 25 you can have brunch at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn here in Andover and then travel by bus to Babson College in Wellesley for a concert by Del Castillo on the Wurlitzer Theatre Pipe Organ. The eastern Mass. Chapter American Theatre Organ Society is sponsoring this delightful musical afternoon. Remember those days of sparkling musical entertainment in the movie theaters when the organ would fill the hall with beautiful sounds? This is your opportunity to relive those happy times. Sign up right away at The Haven for this special event. The whole day will cost only $16! Buses will leave the senior center about 10:45 and return about 5 p.m. There isn't much time left, so sign up today!

And speaking of music, The Haven Singers will be entertaining at the Prescott House on Oct. 21, and at the Academy Manor Nursing Home, Oct. 28, both concerts at 2:30 p.m., under the expert direction of Helen Robinson. The Singers also entertain at the monthly birthday party given the first Wednesday of each month at The Haven.

The next in the Historical Society's presentation will be "Main Street, Andover" and will be given at The Haven Thursday, Oct. 22, at 2 o'clock. Some of you will have the opportunity to remember the old days, and others will learn how Andover has grown. The program is free.

The Council on Aging will hold its regular monthly meeting Oct. 20 at 9:30 a.m. at the center. As with all town boards and commissions, the meeting is open to the public.

You are invited to attend the annual Halloween Party at The Haven, Thursday, Oct. 29, at 1:30 when all of Andover's ghosts and ghouls will be joining in this special celebration. You're invited to wear a costume, but don't stay home if you don't have one or don't want to wear one. You'll be warmly welcomed either way. There will be fun and refreshments for all.

The next mini-trip is to the New England Aquarium, Tuesday, Oct. 27, leaving at 1 p.m. and returning about 5:30. Cost is $5. Space is limited.

"Showtime at Lantana's," Tuesday, Nov. 10, is proving to be popular and reservations are filling fast. This Las Vegas type show includes dinner and transportation as well as the entertainment—and all for $19. Sign up now!

The next session of the mini-clinic, Tuesday, Oct. 20, will be at the Ballard Vale Church. Appointments should be made through the Health Department.

The Andover Bank Wee Small World

Dress-a-Doll Contest.

Make plans to enter Andover Bank's "Dress-a-Doll Contest". You could be a lot richer for the experience.

Andover Bank is handing out toddler dolls on a first-come, first-served basis. All you do is stop into any office of Andover Bank and pick up a doll.

Then take the doll home and create an original costume for it. This year's theme is "It's A Wee Small World" and all costumes must depict the native costume of a child from anywhere in the world.

After you've completed your costume, bring the doll back to Andover Bank. They will be put on display, and our customers will vote on the doll they feel has the most original costume design. We'll award four cash prizes in every office for the best dolls.

Then, on December 5, the dolls will go on the auction block. And all monies raised through the auction will be donated to local children's charities.

So stop by any office of Andover Bank today and pick up your doll. There is no cost involved, and no deposit necessary.

JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Soviets already know all there is to AWACSBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- One of the arguments against selling AWACS planes to Saudi Arabia is that the radar planes might fall into Soviet hands if the Saudi regime is overthrown like the Shah of Iran.

But a confidential Pentagon report to the White House shows that this is a hollow argument at best. The AWACS radar planes would be about as useful to the Kremlin as the blueprints for a World War II bazooka. Here's what the document said:

The supposedly sophisticated AWACS planes are actually a 1960s design -- the radar technology can be found in any textbook. And the computer that goes with the AWACS aircraft is so simple it can practically be bought at the corner drugstore.

In fact, the only sensitive item in an AWACS plane is a magnetic tape program that's used to load the computer. And the mechanical technique for making these magnetic tapes won't be given to the Saudis even if they get the planes.

In other words, if the United States sells the AWACS to Saudi Arabia and Saudi Arabia's government is overthrown by pro-Soviet forces, the Kremlin wouldn't get very much. Before they could use the AWACS planes against the United States, they'd have to get a team of experts to decipher the computer tapes and figure out how they work.

And even if the Russians could out together such a team to study captured Saudi AWACS planes, it would probably be a waste of time. The AWACS aren't supposed to be delivered to the Saudis until 1985, and by that time the Russians will probably have their own AWACS planes in the air.

States the confidential Pentagon document: "It is safe to assume that the Soviets will have an airborne surveillance platform deployed that is equal to or better than the 20-year-old technology of the AWACS."

TOBACCO BURNOUT? One of the government's price-support programs is gasping for breath: The guaranteed minimum price for tobacco is about to burn out.

Opponents of the tobacco price-support program are gaining support in both the House and the Senate. They argue that the government is lying about the amount the price-support program is costing the taxpayers.

Under the price-support program, tobacco farmers get low-interest loans from the government, and they put up their crops as collateral. When tobacco prices are high, the farmers redeem their crops and sell them on the open market.

Unless you consider support for a crop like tobacco immoral, the price-support program isn't all that bad, as government subsidies go. According to the Agriculture Department, only $56 million in government loans has not been repaid -- out of some $5 billion in loans to tobacco farmers since the 1930s. That's less than a 1 percent default.

But there are huge hidden costs in the tobacco-subsidy program. These hidden costs could drive the tobacco program's expense to the taxpayers up to nearly a billion dollars by 1985.

This is because the government's estimates of the tobacco subsidy don't take interest rates into account. And as everyone knows, interest rates have been going up through the roof in recent years.

Tobacco farmers are allowed to borrow at special low-interest rates. This means that the government has to make up the difference between what it charges the tobacco farmers and what it has to pay the bankers for its own money. Agricultural experts figure this has cost Uncle Sam nearly $700 million to keep the tobacco farmers afloat.

There's another problem: The tobacco companies are using more and more cheap foreign tobacco these days. This means that domestic tobacco is piling up in government warehouses under the federal government's program to protect American growers. And this means that a lot of the tobacco will either rot in the warehouses or have to be sold at a discount before it turns rotten.

SHELTER COMEBACK: The White House has been talking a lot about B-1 bombers and MX missiles, but there's another critical defense issue that is getting renewed attention at the highest levels of government: civil defense.

At one time, thousands of designated civil defense shelters dotted the country. They were equipped with medical and emergency food supplies. The shelters fell into disuse, but the Soviets continued making elaborate civil defense preparations.

Currently, the nation's civil defense is handled by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, "FEMA" for short. The agency now has a budget of $130 million to prepare for nuclear war. But our sources say FEMA officials have been huddling with the president's National Security Council to work out some new plans. And FEMA may soon be given a fat budget increase.

Foliage
Report

This weekend should be perfect for seeing fall foliage in the mountains of New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine and Western Massachusetts.

Maine -- Colors at peak from Sebago Lake north to Bangor and Houlton. Full color along coast and well established in southern areas.

New Hampshire -- Peak color along Kancamagus Highway northerly to Lancaster. Lower elevations well established including Monadnock region showing good color.

Vermont -- Peak foliage in the Northeast Kingdom (Routes 111 and 114 especially good) and in the northern Green Mountains (try Route 100 from Warren to Stowe). Particularly scenic areas are Stowe and Mad River. Routes 100 and U.S. 4. Colors well established in Brattleboro and Bennington.

Massachusetts -- Excellent color along northern border of the state reaching out to the Berkshires and along the Mohawk Trail.

AAA reminds motorists that meandering on the side roads will also provide scenic drives and less highway congestion.

Atlanta's Hartsfield International Airport terminal is the world's largest. It contains 2.2 million square feet of floor area.

Andover 0 - Lawrence 0

An Exciting, Entertaining Frustrating, Discouraging Day

By Rick Harrison

In many ways it was one of the most exciting and entertaining football games ever played at Lovely Field, but in the end it was also a very frustrating and discouraging afternoon for Andover High.

The Golden Warriors managed to retain their undefeated status, and they're still clinging precariously to first place in the East Division of the Merrimack Valley Conference, but this was a game that saw numerous scoring opportunities erased by turnovers or unyielding defense.

The final score was no score, 0-0, between Andover and defending East Division co-champ Lawrence High.

Both teams surrendered the ball on downs inside the enemy five yard line in the first half, and during the fourth quarter two interceptions and a fumble halted AHS threats at the Lawrence three, 10 and 18 yard lines.

The double goose-egg tie left Andover at 3-0-1 overall, a half-step ahead of Methuen and Lawrence Central (3-1-0), and one game up on Lawrence (2-1-1).

Despite the 0-0 score the two teams combined for 25 first downs, 375 yards rushing and nearly 500 yards total offense.

Both teams moved the ball with great authority until they came within spitting distance of the goalline, at which point the rival offenses sputtered.

Rennie and Sarkis

Lawrence, which whitewashed Andover 17-0 last fall and is the first team in a quarter-century to shut the Golden Warriors out two consecutive years, exhibited some awesome first quarter ball control.

The Lancers took the opening kickoff and held the ball for all but 48 seconds of the first period, mounting an 18-play drive that carried from the Lawrence 23 yard line to the Andover one.

Frustrating End

Disappointment is registered on the faces of Andover fans as a Warrior pass is intercepted with 41 seconds remaining in Saturday afternoon's 0-0 tie with Lawrence High.

Booters Post Two More Victories

By She Livermore

On Wednesday, October 7th, the Warrior Booters played Lawrence on their new soccer field, which was 120 yds long by 75 yds wide, and perfect for Andover's style of play. A brief thunderstorm delayed the start of the game for about 10 minutes but once the weather cleared, the Booters got down to business and dispatched Lawrence, 8-0.

On Saturday, Andover hosted Methuen in its first Saturday home game. As the final score indicates, it was a more evenly contested match, as the Warrior Booters won 2-0.

Andover 8 - Lawrence 0

Greg Batten opened the scoring 5 minutes into the game on a pass by Adam Roberts.

Greg scored his second goal of the game 4 minutes later, with the assist going to Paul Thoday.

Constant pressure on the Lawrence net produced two scores by Steve Carbone, 5 minutes apart. Steve's first goal was assisted by Dan Roberts; his second was direct.

Adam Roberts closed out the first half scoring on a penalty shot awarded Andover, following confusion in the penalty area involving Steve Carbone.

The first half ended 5-0.

Andover's first line only played 10 minutes of the second half but increased the lead to 6-0 when Adam Roberts re-directed a shot made by his brother Dan which was going wide.

Andover substituted liberally and the final tallies were made by David Bates on a pass from Steve McDowell, and center forward Paul Finnegan.

Andover's defense although not tested severely responded well to a few Lawrence offensive thrusts.

Dean Lockwood played his first varsity game as goalkeeper in the second half and was equal to everything Lawrence could muster.

As indicated by the lopsided final score, Andover dominated throughout the entire game.

ANDOVER 2 - METHUEN 0

Methuen came prepared to play and the first half was quite even.

Steve Carbone scored Andover's first goal 30 minutes into the first half on an excellent play by Captain Paul Thoday. Paul threaded the ball through the Methuen defense with just the right amount of speed so that the Methuen goalkeeper was not able to reach it. Steve caught it at full speed and was able to tap the ball over the goalkeeper's head as he lunged for it. It was a hard earned score and a fine goal.

The first half ended 1-0.

Methuen returned refreshed after half-time, and

Girls Soccer At .500 Mark

The Andover High School girls varsity soccer team at mid-season boast a five hundred record with three wins and three losses.

They hosted Belmont on September 22 and lost the hard fought battle in the second half 2-0. The two teams played strong and aggressive in a scoreless first half but Belmont took the lead in the third period and scored again in the fourth. Defensive stars for Andover were Beth Luciano, Leigh Wragg and Jenna Powell. Offensive star was Mary Oppel.

On Friday, Sept. 25, Arlington overpowered Andover 1-0. Defensive standouts were Leigh Wragg and Connie Corkery. Offensive standout was Julie Kinsky.

Andover traveled to Chelmsford to pick up an impressive victory on Tuesday, Sept. 29. Chelmsford stunned Andover with a quick goal in the first five minutes but Andover kept pressure on the Chelmsford goalie and turned the tables winning the game 3-1. Andover goals were scored by Julie Kinsky from Karen Hardock, Alyssa McCabe from Karen Hardock and Karen Hardock from Mary Beth Plaehn. offensive stars Julie Kinsky and Karen Hardock. Defensive stars Le Rockwarg and Alyssa McCabe. Goalie Connie Corkery made nine saves.

Andover lost to a superior Winchester team on Tuesday, October 6, 7-1. The entire team made a fine effort to fight back against a very strong opponent. Andover's Mary Beth Plaehn scored from Karen Hardock in the opening seconds for Andover's only goal. Goalie Connie Corkery made 23 saves and in the second half Rockwarg made 13 saves.

Mary Beth Plaehn scored two goals and assisted on another as Andover defeated Wakefield Friday, 4-2. Plaehn unassisted and Beth Luciano from Plaehn scored in the first period and in the fourth, Kim Hardock from Connie Corkery and Plaehn from Karen Hardock completed the scoring. Connie Corkery played the first half in goal for Andover and Le Rockwarg played the second half. Plaehn was awarded the offensive star and Kim Worthley the defensive star.

Moving Ahead Rachel Petrella starts forward toward the goal as Andover High Girls' field hockey team goes through a winning effort against Dracut this past week.

Girls Top Dracut, 2-1

By Jennifer Looney

Andover High's Varsity field hockey squad pulled off a major coup by defeating Dracut 2-1. Beth Whitworth scored Andover's first goal, tying Dracut. In the 2nd half, Jennifer Looney, assisted by Kate Seeley, scored for the tie breaker.

The Andover advantage was preserved by fine performances from goalie Pippi Saalfrank and right inner, Debbie Lasota, Carlene Darby, halfback Julie Barry. Center half, Lisa Stratten Link, and Ellen Keefe also played a key role in the victory.

The junior varsity squad, coached by Evelyn Cullianne is having a successful season. Andover shut-out Dracut with the score of 9-0. Ann Maher played an outstanding game, scoring 5 goals, hang Dang followed with two and Trish Mirisola with one. Key defenders were Jennifer Stratton, Julie Burke, and Ciara Sullivan. JV's record is now 6-0.

Today Andover will travel to Haverhill for a 3:30 game.

In A Class By Himself

Tim Doran is in a class by himself

And that is not meant to be a slam on the other members of the Lynchburg College cross country team in Lynchburg, VA

It's just that Doran has been the only representative from his class on the cross country team since he entered LC three years ago

"It has been different every year," conceded the Andover native when asked about the makeup of the Hornet harriers over the past three years. "My first year here I was the only freshman on the team and we had three seniors and two juniors.

"The next year we had a lot of freshmen and only two seniors.

"We're still very young," concluded Doran, "but I like this team very much. I've never seen a team work any harder. Everyone is going 100 percent."

And the guy showing the way is Doran, who was selected LC Athlete of the Week for the period Sept. 17-24.

He posted his best time ever on the Lynchburg College course in a season-opening dual win over Virginia Commonwealth University and Mary Washington College.

"I'm just glad we won," said Doran, who cut 35 seconds off his previous best on the five-mile course

"I really don't like our course because it is so hilly and I don't run well on hills. I wasn't pleased with the time (27:35) but it does feel pretty good to finish first. It's a little more rewarding

So far this whole year has been pretty rewarding for Doran, as his teammates also elected him captain of the squad before the season began.

Despite being the only returnee from the top five of 1980, the junior business major said, "I certainly didn't take it for granted that I would be elected captain.

Tinch Campbell, a senior transfer) is a good athlete and he would have made a very good captain. I'm very pleased that my teammates have that much respect and confidence in me

Doran was not exactly an "eager beaver" when he began his cross country career several years ago, as he recalled. "When one of my older brothers (there are 10 children in the family) was a senior in high school he wanted someone to run with him and he dragged me out there

But the likeable athlete really seems to be into running this year and he admitted, "I did a little more training in the offseason this year.

"I knew that I was going to be the only upperclassman returning from last year and I felt some pressure.

"Basically what I did was lift weights, to help my speed and strength—especially when I'm running hills.

"I've also been more consistent in practice," continued the 6'0", 145 pounder. "In the past I've had good days and bad days but this year they've all been good.

"I'm working a little harder and I think that is mostly because everyone else on the team is working hard, too

Asked if he had ever considered giving up his jogging shoes, Doran admitted, "It has crossed my mind at times but it must have been instilled in me as a kid, never to quit anything

"I really like the challenge

LC third-year coach Jack Toms, who has guided the Hornets to a 28-3 mark over the past two years, is the first to admit that this is, "a rebuilding year for us

But, even with that in mind, Doran says, "Our goal is to win the Old Dominion Athletic Conference championship

"It's going to take us a while to get everything together but we'll be better by the end of the season.

"Our workouts are getting faster and faster every day

David Johnson

Scores Unassisted Goal At Springfield

David Johnson of Andover is a member of the Springfield College varsity soccer team this fall. The Chiefs, coached for the 33rd year by Irv Schmid, opened their season Friday night, Sept. 21, at home against Western New England, winning 7-0

A physical education major, Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Johnson, 155 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover.

The senior halfback had a large role in Springfield's opening game win over crosstown rival Western New England. The former captain at Andover High, Johnson netted an unassisted goal.

B.U. Gridder

Jim DePiano of Andover a freshman, is a member of the Boston University 1981 football team. The 5-11, 216-pound defensive lineman earned numerous honors as a member of the Andover High Golden Warrior teams, including All-League and All-Conference his junior and senior years. He was also an All-Divisional and Centenary All-American as well as a participant in both the Shriners and Agganis All-Star games.

Jim Dowe

Bridgewater Goalie

Jim Dowe, 90 Bannister Road, Andover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dowe, is a goalie for the 1981 Bridgewater State College Soccer Team. This is his first year with the team.

A 1981 graduate of Andover High School, Dowe is a member of the Class of 1985 at Bridgewater State College, majoring in computer science

Vikings Upset Dolphins; Colts Beat Redskins

By Dean LoPresti and Jim Wiseman

Vikings 12 - Dolphins 0

In an action-packed junior football league game, the excitement started when the Dolphins kicked off the Vikings Jamey Clarke who brought the ball to his own 46 where Akim Msumba knocked him down. On third down the Vikings quarterback John Perry was sacked by Cort Pomeroy for a loss of two. On the next play at the 42-yard line of the Phins Steve Redgate dashed 42 yards on a pitchout to paydirt. The extra point was denied.

The Phins took over at their own 20 and on the third play of their series, they fumbled and lost eight yards, but got the ball back. Finally the Phins punted to the Viking 47-yard line where the Vikings took over. Now the Vikings were in a fourth and long situation and they punted back to the Dolphins 14. The Dolphins could gain only a yard before the quarter ended.

Second quarter action began when good luck fell on the Vikings whose John Perry ran back a punt 31 yards to the one yard line and ran a quarterback sneak for the side. The score was now Vikings 12, Dolphins 0 where it was to stay. After the kick, the Dolphins started at their own 37. Mike Powers ran 12 yards for a first down, but it was called back due to a penalty. On third and 15 the Dolphins had a pass intercepted by the Vikings' Joseph Frazetti. The Vikings were held up on a fourth and six down and failed to get the first down due to a tackle by Sean D'Urso. The Phins then started to look good when the combined forces of Scott Grant and Mike Powers brought the ball from their own 35 to the Viking 25 in two plays, but were tied up again when they threw two incomplete passes before the half ended.

The B teams came in with the Vikings kicking off. The Dolphins started play and it looked like it was going to be a long quarter due to three penalties in a row, which ended up with a first and 25 at the Phins own 25. Kurt Seifert started off play by gaining a yard. On second and 24 Aleke Msumba ran 12 yards to the 37 where Douglas Bruk brought him down. On a fourth and ten, Louie LoPresti ran 11 yards for the first where Eric Willcox dragged him down. On the next play Aleke Msumba dashed 30 yards to the Viking 25 where he was brought down by Rob Schwartz. On the next series of downs Matt Rubenstein and Aleke Msumba gained eight yards to bring a fourth to four. Again LoPresti ran five yards to bring up their third first down. LoPresti, Msumba and Rubenstein ran the ball to the Viking 20, but it was not enough for the first down. The Viking took over for the last play of the quarter when Doug Bruk was caught by Msumba for a loss of seven.

In the start of the fourth quarter, the Vikes had to punt on fourth and seven to their own 38. The Phins then received a five-yard penalty and Akim Msumba gained three yards, before being dragged down by Jamey Clarke. The Phins went to the air completing a six-yard pass to Mike Powers at the Viking 33. It was enough for the first. The Vikings took over and on third and four John Perry ran 35 yards to the Phin 30 where Stephen D'Urso brought him down. From there the Vikings got to the Phin 24 behind the running of Steve Redgate and Richard Bourdelais. On the last play of the game Perry was caught for a seven-yard loss by Sean D'Urso.

Colts 13 - Redskins 0

Once again the Andover Junior Football League witnessed another extremely well played contest. This time the Central Colts emerged victorious over a tough Redskin team, 13-0.

Action began early in the first quarter when the opening kickoff was fumbled by the Redskins and Kyle Murphy recovered for the colts on the 30. Matthew McManus pounded his way to the 19 and two plays later, Scott Degregorio ran up the sidelines to paydirt. The extra point was no good and the score was 6-0, Colts.

Then in the second quarter, lightning struck twice for the Colts. It was Degregorio again, this time on the defensive side, that turned the tide for the Colts, when midway through the quarter he intercepted a Redskin pass and brought it all the way to the five. Two plays later, quarterback Robby Carpentier exploded up the middle for the touchdown. He also added the extra point to make the score 13-0, Colts.

The Colts received the kickoff in the third quarter and managed to keep the ball for an astounding 14 out of 16 plays, but failed to score. They also dominated most of the fourth quarter despite being penalty ridden. The Redskins last bid for a touchdown fell short when Degregorio picked off a pass on the last play of the game to assure a Colt victory.

Outstanding players for the Central Colts included Scott Degregorio, Devon Arsenault, Matthew McManus and Robby Carpentier. For the West Andover Redskins, it was Joseph Hart, Stefan Kelley and Jeff Driscoll.

Bike Race Is Saturday

again well prepared for the contest, however, Andover scored 7 minutes into the half when an alert Greg Batten intercepted a goal kick made by Methuen and passed the ball in front to Steve Carbone who made the shot and scored his second and the final goal of the game.

Both teams battled throughout the rest of the game but were unable to score.

As always in a game with Methuen, the play was rough on both sides, and nobody knew the outcome until the final whistle.

Andover's defensive line of Greg Schionis, Yvan Levesque and Todd Lockwood, played extremely well shutting down Methuen's front line, and goalkeeper Danny Kimball made three key saves.

Dan and Adam Roberts displayed fine passing ability on the left hand side, baffling Methuen's defense, but were unable to convert.

Jim Denoncourt took an excellent shot after three or four fine Andover passes set him up in front but the Methuen goalkeeper made the save.

This week Andover will host both vocational schools in the League. Yesterday they played Greater Lowell Voke and on Saturday will meet cross town rivals Greater Lawrence Voke on the Eugene Lovely field. Greater Lawrence Voke is still a strong contender for the MV Tournament and, therefore, Saturday's game should be an excellent one to watch.

League To Register

The Andover Church Basketball League is currently holding registration for the upcoming season. Youth (8-15) have until Nov. 1 to sign up for the league. Due to continuing increases in enrollment, late registrants will be put on a waiting list.

Coordinating the registration this year are: Mike Robinson, Christ; George Corkery, St. Augustine's, Bob French, St. Robert's, Mike Brink, South; Lennie Karas, Temple Emanuel; Rick Harrison and Rupert Lowe, West Parish.

Coordinators, together with anyone interested in serving in an administrative capacity, will meet Sunday, Oct. 25, at 8 p.m. in the conference room of Ballard Vale United Church.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

Two undefeated Under 12 boys teams, the Express and the Kicks, faced each other at noon on the East Junior High field last Saturday. It was a very spirited game, but the Express won it 3-2 to continue their undefeated streak.

UNDER 14 DIVISION

Barnstable 6 - Suffolk 2

With two goals in the first half and four in the second half, the Barnstable won a rather lopsided victory over Suffolk who could only muster two. Jeff Kuo scored a hat rick and David Doyle, Sean Burns and Robby Foley kicked in a single; Greg Tormey, David Reed, Shannon McCabe, David Cox and Sean Burns assisted. Suffolk's goals were scored by Bill Bruno and Rob Wright; Rob Wright and Jeff Smith assisted. BOW: Greg Najjar and David Sorrie (Suffolk) as well as Ray Reed, Mark Toth and Harold Gillam (Barnstable).

Bristol 3 - Norfolk 0

Bristol controlled much of the play in their game with Norfolk and tallied in the first quarter (George Heseltine), second quarter (Greg Harris) and final (Tom DeLeire) whilst denying the competition any successful shots on their nets. Joseph Murphy and George Heseltine assisted on the goals. BOW: Mike Hardock, Greg Harris and Robin Kim (Bristol).

Berkshire 3 - Hampden 1

Hampden took the lead in the first quarter when Ellen LeMaitre kicked in the ball on a pass from Lori Ahouse. With only ten players on hand, they held the lead until the final quarter when the Berkshire overcame the defense and tallied three goals to win the victory (Sheila Hamilton on a pass from Deanne Gianelly, Deanne Gianelly and Jennifer Surret.) BOW: Kathleen Griffin, Lorraine Coughlin and Jennifer Surret (Berkshire) as well as well as Liz Cox, Beth Salamone and Lori Becker (Hampden).

Plymouth 2 - Franklin 1

The game was all tied up at the end of the second quarter, 1-1, with goals by Kelley McCann on a pass from Christine Ferrara, and Angela Bobba on a pass from Brenda Damon. In the final quarter, a penalty was called against Franklin and when Suzanne Curley completed the penalty shot, she won the victory for Plymouth. BOW: Lisa Mackay, Katey Regan and Nicole DeMartino (Franklin) as well as Nicole Durant, Christine Morey, Susan Sofia and Jill Glaser (Plymouth).

Dukes 3 - Worcester 0

The Dukes dominated the first half of play and tallied three goals to take a formidable lead (Kathy Neaves (2) and Ronnie Kovner on a direct kick). Worcester made many attempts to get the ball into the net in the second half but excellent goalkeeping and defensive play by Mary Ellen Lee denied them all. BOW: Liz Erban, Kathy Neaves and Mary Ellen Lee (Dukes).

UNDER 12 DIVISION:

Whitecaps 2 - Diplomats 1

In a game that could have gone either way, the Whitecaps won the victory points with the extra goal. The Whitecaps tallied in the first and second quarters (Mike Corkery and Henning Ohlenbusch). Nicky Coon headed in the ball off a pass from Steven Howes for the Diplomats. BOW: David Schwind, Timmy Plaehn and Chris Hekimian (Diplomats) as well as Kyle Murphy and Barry Connor (Whitecaps).

Sounders 3 - Tornadoes 0

Continuing their winning ways, the Sounders scored in the second, third and final quarters (Robert Devaney and Robert Ashworth (2); Matt Corbett and Chris Gully assisted on the goals) to win 3-0. The Tornadoes did make some good attempts to deny the shut-out but their shots went wide of the net. BOW: Mickey Schallopp, Ted Andry, John and Kenny Duval (Sounders) as well as John Pike, Jim Astbury, Gary Ayers and goalie James Mackay (Tornadoes).

Chiefs 4 - Earthquakes 1

The Chiefs won their fourth straight victory by playing aggressively throughout the game. They tallied three goals in the first quarter to take a formidable lead and added another in the third (John Adams with a hat trick and Thacher Worthen; Mike Schwartz and Thacher Worthen assisted on two of the goals). The Earthquakes denied the shut-out with a goal in the final quarter. BOW: Chris Sapuppo and Frank Padellaro (Chiefs).

Hurricanes 4 - Timbers 2

The score was tied up at the end of the third quarter, 2-2, with goals by Jeremy Levine on a pass by David Milne, and Kyle McCabe (Hurricanes), and Matt Murphy on passes by Chris Concemi and Tim Higgins, and Chris Colsia (Timbers). In the final quarter, the Hurricanes increased their total by two (Jamie O'Brien, both on passes by Jeff Leonard) and they won the victory. BOW: Geoff Bolan, Rusty Leonard and Chris Lawson (Hurricanes).

Roughnecks 3 - Lancers 0

The Roughnecks controlled much of the action in their game with the Lancers and tallied in the second quarter and added two more in the final quarter to win a 3-0 victory. Tommy Cioffi booted in two and Matt McKinnon a single; Chris McAnally and Jose Guerra assisted with the scoring. BOW: David Kaplowitz and goalie Jim Reagan (Roughnecks) as well as Casey Pant and Michael Engelhart who played an excellent defensive game for the Lancers.

Express 3 - Kicks 2

In a spirited confrontation between two undefeated teams, the Express won the victory points with the extra goal. In the final minutes of play, the Kicks made numerous attempts to tie it up but excellent defense saved the day for the Express. Steve Napolitano, Scott Powers and Robby DiAdamo tallied for the Express; Chris DiClemente and Matt Young assisted. Mark Neaves and Jim Sullivan scored for the Kicks, Jim's on a pass from John Slavin. BOW: Rich Juarez, John Slavin, Mark Neaves and Mark Tucker (Kicks) as well as Jason Scarpaci and goalie Scott Powers (Express).

Stingrays 4 - Hawks 2

The Hawks took the lead in the first quarter when Denise Morey tallied, however, the Stingray tied it up in the third and added two more (Dawn Fater (2) and Melissa Morton; Laura Corry and Karyn Bates assisted). The Stingray made it 4-1 in the final quarter (Joelle Johnson on a corner kick by Windy Carothers) and with another tally by the Hawks (Sara Horton), they won a 4-2 victory. Kathy Ziegenbein assisted on the Hawks tallies. BOW: Denise Morey, Sara Horton and Kathy Ziegenbein (Hawks) as well as Windy Carothers, Sharon Hastings and Laurie Ritterhaus (Stingray).

Sharks 4 - Marlin 3

The lead changed hands throughout the game as each team kicked in the ball and it was all tied up midway through the final quarter, 3-3. Both teams worked hard for the winning goal and when the Sharks scored again in the last few minutes of play, they won the hard fought victory. Aimee Levi and Karen Sopp scored for the Marlin; Jacqueline Lynch and Hallie Keene did it for the Sharks. BOW: Sharon Petzold and Shelley O'Brien (Sharks) as well as Deborah Girdwood and Carolyn Klinger (Marlin).

Robins 1 - Falcons 1

The first half was scoreless. In the third quarter the Falcons found the range and took the lead when Cheryl Crawford scored on a pass from Maria Dukas. In the final quarter, the Robins tied it up when Caroline Pool assaulted the nets; with no further scoring, both teams split the victory points. BOW: Beth Lucey, Kim Heseltine and Gillian Recesso (Robins) as well as Susan Hartigan and Jennifer Hechemy (Falcons). In a make-up game with the Sharks, the Robins again split the points with a 1-1 tie.

Owls 3 - Eagles 0

The first half was scoreless. In the second half, the Owls played aggressively and tallied three goals (Martha Fraser, Beth Ostrowski and Kathy Veno; Kathy and Beth assisted on two goals) to win the victory points. BOW: Jennifer Roen and Mary Beth Griffin (Owls) as well as goalie Laura Cox, Stephanie Chechik and Dawn LeBreck (Eagles).

Barracuda 2 - Dolphins 0

The Barracuda tallied in the first and final quaters. The Dolphins worked hard to get the ball into the nets but good defense held them scoreless and the Barracuda won the victory. BOW: Jennifer Kasper, Kelly Darwin and Merrie Puglia (Dolphins).

UNDER 10 DIVISION

Pythons 2 - Jaguars 0

The Pythons played a strong first quarter during which they got on the scoreboard with two goals (Scott Lanouette and Chris Adams). The Jaguars controlled much of the rest of the game and made many good shots on the nets, however, excellent goaltending by Scott Lanouette, Eric Horton and Mark Leinson earned the shut-out for the Pythons. BOW: Davy Carnes and Gene park (Jaguars) as well as Adam Guild and Brian Wright (Pythons).

Leopards 4 - Bobcats 2

In their finest effort of the season, a less than full complement of Bobcats controlled much of the play in their game with the undefeated Leopards but excellent goaltending by Chris Eggert and Brian donnellan stopped some key shots which would have made the outcome different. The Leopards tallied twice in the first and added two more in the final quarter (A. J. Boutin (2), Chris Eggert and Jonathon Lewis on a pass by Todd Dow). Brent Raftery scored both Leopards' goals, orf on a pass by Gregg Shapiro. BOW: Ricky Pass and Jonathon Lewis (Leopards) as well as William Harvey, John Bishop and Mike D'Angelo (Bobcats).

Lynx 1 - Cheetahs 0

The Lynx dominated much of the play in their game with the Cheetahs but excellent goaltending by Mark Ziady and Billy Batchelder held them to only one successful shot on the nets (Mark Green) for a 1-0 victory. BOW: Michael Barrett, Mike Las-trina and Kevin O'Handley (Lynx) as well as Chris Bloh, Patt Finn and Brett Cox (Cheetahs).

Cougars 6 - Wildcats 2

The Cougars went on a rampage in the first quarter and took an awesome lead with five quick goals (Jamie Spinelli (2), Brad Reghitto (2) and Keith Rembisz; Brad Reghitto, Jamie Spinelli and brother Steve assisted). They added another in the third quarter (Steven Spinelli.) In the final quarter, the Wildcats played harder and denied the shut-out with two tallies by Toby Frothingham, one on a pass by Jason Blandini. BOW: Eric Friese, Kyle and Kirk Worthley (Cougars) as well as Michael Pierro, David Tucker and David Lucey (Wildcats).

Participate In Triathlon At Dartmouth

Two area residents participated in the second annual Nordic ski squad triathlon at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H.

Kirk Siegel, a senior from North Andover, and captain of the Dartmouth ski team, and Tom French of Andover, were among the seven students who covered 50 miles from Dartmouth's Mt. Moosilauke Ravine Lodge to the college's campus the hard way --- by foot over the 4,800-foot Mt. Moosilauke, by roller ski and by canoe.

The effort is part of the training for the college's cross-country ski squad

Starting at 9 o'clock in the morning, they ran some 15 miles from the Ravine Lodge to the precipitous cascade of rocks known as the Gorge Brook Trail to the arctic summit of Mt. Moosilauke, down the southwest side of the mountain by the Glenciff Trail, across Route 25, along the Appalachian Trail, over Mist Mountain, and past Wachipauka Pond and Lake Tangleton to Route 25C at the top of Orr's Hill.

There, they changed from jogging shoes to ski boots and roller skis for another 15-mile leg over the roller-coaster hills west along Route 25C to Piermont and then down Route 10 to Orford.

After a break for sustenance, the ski-runners prepared for the final test --- a 20-mile paddle down the Connecticut River to Dartmouth's Ledyard Canoe Club in the club's sturdy war canoe, previously cached by the bridge, to Fairlee, Vt.

They beached the canoe at Ledyard at 6 p.m. --- just nine hours after they began.

Although it made no difference to anybody but them, they were jubilant because, as Siegel beamed, "We cut at least a half-hour off last year's elapsed time."

American Paintings. This announcement was made at the member's opening of the exhibition, "The Boston Tradition," which consists of masterpieces from the museum's unsurpassed collection of American paintings.

John Moors Cabot, U.S. Ambassador between 1954 and 1965, was born in Cambridge in 1901, and, like his father, Godfrey Lowell Cabot, attended Harvard University from which he graduated magna cum laude in 1923. Two years later he received a degree in Modern History at Oxford University. During his 41-year career with the Foreign Service, Cabot was Ambassador to Brazil, Colombia, Finland, Poland and Sweden. He was known as a diplomat who always sought direct contact with the people of the foreign countries in which he served. He was the last U.S. Consul General in Shanghai, serving there until the founding of The People's Republic of China in 1949. Fifteen years later Cabot led negotiations with China that were held in Poland before diplomatic contacts were resumed. John Moors Cabot died in Washington, D.C., following a stroke on Feb. 24, 1981. His son, Lewis P. Cabot, has served as a trustee of the Boston Museum since 1966.

On The Soccer Fields

Rattlers 2 - Cobras 1

The Rattlers tallied in the second and third quarters on goals by Adam Galvin, one on a pass by Fred Hohn and Peter Caramanis, and the other assisted by John Mattola. The spirited Cobras made some excellent attempts to get the ball into the nets but alert goaltending by George Willard held them to one successful shot booted in by Lance Gomes on a pass by Alex Egmont. BOW: Mike Hein, Lance Gomes and Michael Sintros (Cobras) as well as Adam Brown, Andrew Brent and Ryan O'Leary (Rattlers).

Panthers 3 - Pumas 0

The Panthers forward line got on the scoreboard in the first quarter (Billy Tobin) and added two more in the third and fourth (David Hobbs on a pass by Billy Tobin, and Mark Shwetz.) The Pumas made attempts to score throughout the game but good goalkeeping by Mark Shwetz and David Hobbs held them scoreless. BOW: Jon Reilly, Andy Tine and Mark Marchlik (Panthers) as well as Ken Gable, David Orrick and Craig Knight (Pumas).

Tigers 2 - Lions 1

The Tigers played a spirited second quarter during which they tallied two goals (Matt Pothier, one on passes by Brian Smith and Mike LeBreck) to take the lead. The Lions worked hard to get on the scoreboard but good goaltending held them to only one successful shot made by Joseph DiFraia, and the Tigers won the victory. BOW: Eric Hammond, Aram Krauson and Brian Smith (Tigers) as well as Jeff Morneault, Stephen Devaney and Joseph DiFraia (Lions).

Eagles 2 - Cardinals 2

The Eagles took the lead in the first quarter, however, the Cardinals tied it up in the second (Kathleen Radulski) and added another in the third (Tricia Doyle) to make it 2-1. The Eagles worked hard in the final quarter to increase their tally and their offensive thrusts finally overcame the strong Cardinals defense, when Elizabeth Hanson scored her second goal of the game, this one on a pass by Nancy Abramson. BOW: Amy Buck and Tracey Pool (Eagles) as well as Katie Doherty and Elizabeth Lealy (Cardinals).

Owls 4 - Bluejays 2

The Owls attacked in the first half and took a commanding 4-0 lead on goals by Jennifer Stableford (2), Maureen Morrow and Ann Larsen; Lisa D'Errico and Haki-ka Keith assisted on 2 goals. The Bluejays didn't give up and found the range twice in the third quarter (Joan Asgeirsson and Melissa Kirkiles on a pass by Shubba Bilwakesh), although were still down at the final whistle. BOW: Kristin Brown, Andrea Duffy and Cristina Staron (Bluejays) as well as Carolyn Oskar and Elizabeth Symchych (Owls). In a make-up game with the Orioles, the Owls lost 4-0.

Condors 6 - Hawks 0

The Condors showed no mercy in their game with the Hawks and tallied a total of six goals whilst denying the embattled opposition any successful shots on their nets. Scoring were Kathy Doran, Kristin Donnelly, Heather Pomeroy (2), Sandra Ferris on passes by Jeanine Meckel and Heather Pomeroy, and Cheryl Kluck. BOW: Laura Hebeisen, Susan Boush and Jeanine Meckel (Condors).

Ravens 4 - Orioles 0

In a make-up game mid-week with the Owls, the Orioles posted a 4-0 victory with goals by Brenna Cronin, Stephanie Kuo, Tricia Novelline and Kerry Fitzpatrick; Megan Sheehan assisted on Brenna's tally. In their game with the Ravens, however, they found the competition much stronger and they suffered a 4-0 loss. BOW: Ellen Corrie, Kristen Beebe, Diane Bohaker and Maureen Murphy (Orioles).

Vultures 2 - Falcons 2

The Vultures tallied in the second quarter (Allison Foster on a pass my Mina Sheel) to take the lead. The Falcons tied it up and added another in the third quarter. A penalty shot in the final quarter awarded the Vultures made the difference as Kathryn Karp completed it and made it a tie game for her team. BOW: Michelle Vetrano, Molly Kalkstein and Cara Zappala (Vultures).

Bequest

Director Jan Fontein announced recently that the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, has received an important bequest of John Moors Cabot, former U.S. Ambassador, and has named in his memory the John Moors Cabot Curatorship of American Paintings. ## Warriors

Don Rennie, who rushed for 216 yards the previous week against Haverhill, and Deeb Sarkis covered all the acreage on the ground.

In the march, which produced five clockwork first downs and wasn't blunted by a major penalty against the Lancers, Rennie carried eight times for 41 yards and Sarkis, 10 times for 56 yards.

Throughout the afternoon the Lawrence attack consisted of 48 rushes by Sarkis and Rennie, 25 by Sarkis and 23 by Rennie, only six attempted passes and three punts.

The initial thrust moved steadily for a first down at the Andover 10. Sarkis cracked the line twice for seven yards, but on third down junior John McLellan stopped Rennie for a one yard gain at the two.

On fourth down Sarkis hit the right side of the line, but he was stacked up shy of the goalline at the one by Craig Hyslip, Carmen Scarpa, Mark Jannini and McLellan.

That was only the beginning of a solid effort by the entire Golden Warriors' defensive unit, anchored by Quad-Capts. Mike White, Hyslip and Scarpa along with Dan Donlon, Bill Powell, Greg Sacco, Tim Grams, Ted MacDonald, George Vasiliades and Pete Callahan.

AHS Threat

Andover came right back with a serious bid of its own on its first possession, moving from its own one yard line to the Lawrence four.

This 95-yard excursion took 12 plays, and started with a 15 yard up-the-middle burst by quarterback Brien Moriarty on a simple sneak.

Russ Lewis skittered for eight yards, Moriarty gained two for another first down, and successive passes to Lewis and Scarpa netted 17 more yards.

Moriarty swept the left side on the following play and rumbled 44 yards to the Lawrence 13, aided by a fine block from Lewis before Dave Giribaldi made a touchdown-saving tackle.

Moriarty gained two yards on a keeper, junior Greg Sacco bucked seven yards on a pair of carries, and AHS was faced with a fourth down and one at the LHS four.

Moriarty dropped back and zipped a pass intended for Tim Grams in the endzone, but it went astray to end the first Golden Warriors' bid.

The legwork of Sarkis and Rennie extricated the Lancers from the shadow of their own endzone, but a big defensive play by Donlon on third down forced a Paul Bell punt.

Late in the half Moriarty unloaded a 56-yard bomb to Scarpa, who was dragged down on the Lawrence five, but the play was nullified because the pass had been thrown from beyond the line of scrimmage.

Turnovers Hurt

Andover, which had four turnovers (two fumbles, two interceptions) in the hard-hitting second half, gave the Lancers a solid chance early in the third quarter when Moriarty was popped by Paul Bell and middle linebacker Sarkis pounced on the fumble at the Warriors' 45.

Rennie and Sarkis advanced the ball to the 29 for a first down, but that's as close as Coach Steve Perocchi's crew got this time.

An incomplete pass, another strong defensive play by Donlon, a delay-of-the-game penalty, and a quarterback sack by Hyslip on fourth down killed the threat.

The rivals then exchanged three punts, including a fine 42-yarder by Andover's Tom Wilkins, as play moved into the wild final period.

On the second play of the fourth quarter Sacco intercepted a Dennis Molloy pass at the Golden Warriors' 38 yard line, returning the ball 48 yards to the Lawrence 14 before Rennie wrestled him down.

Paul Karamourtopoulos returned the favor for Lawrence on the very next play, however, as Moriarty was hit by Bell as he went to pass and the aerial was picked off at the Lancers' 10 and returned to the 39 before Wilkins made the tackle.

Wild Finish

Sarkis carried four straight times for 7, 7, 4 and then 23 yards, advancing the ball to the Andover 20.

Sarkis was starched at the 19 on first down, leaving the game briefly with a minor leg injury, and then Molloy was hit for an eight yard loss by White, Hyslip and Chris Reichert.

Rennie took a pitch right on third down and was buried by MacDonald, Powell and Callahan.

That set up a 44 yard fieldgoal try by Bell with 4:01 to play.

Bell, who had boomed the second half kickoff inside the Andover five yard line, mis-fired on the fieldgoal attempt as the ball was well short and off to the left.

The Golden Warriors took possession at their 26, and Moriarty immediately went to the air with four straight pass completions to Scarpa (10 and 19 yards) and Tim Grams (four and five yards).

Fullback Tom Wilkins also ripped off 11, 8 and 4 yard gainers, before Moriarty carried twice for 10 yards and a first down at the nine.

Wilkins got the call again and muscled up the middle for six yards, putting the ball at the Lawrence three with 1:09 to play.

On the next play Moriarty swept left end and cut for the goalline, but he was hit at the one and the ball popped loose.

Rennie was Donnie-on-the-Spot, plucking the fumble out of mid-air to thwart yet another Andover touchdown try.

The Lancers were unable to move, and with 29 seconds to play Bell was forced to punt from his own endzone.

He unloaded a pressure-packed 37-yard kick to the Lancers' 45, where Andover had just 19 seconds to win the game.

A 13-yard pass completion to Grams erased only four seconds from the clock, but a subsequent pass intended for Grams was intercepted by the omni-present Rennie at the Lancers' 18.

A Rennie fumble on first down was recovered by Sacco, but time ran out with that play and the scoreless struggle was in the books.

The game was relatively penalty-free considering its intensity, as Andover took just two penalties for 27 yards and Lawrence had four for 30 yards.

Chelmsford

Andover will try to keep its undefeated record intact this Saturday with a road game against perennial West Division power Chelmsford.

Fans are reminded that Chelmsford now plays its games at the new high school stadium, rather than the McCarthy Junior High field.

Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m.

The Lions, who lost a fine coach in Tom Caito when Proposition 2½ forced him to Florida, enter the game with a 2-2-0 record under co-coaches Mike Esposito and Jack Fletcher.

Crafts Fair

The Minuteman Tech Booster Club of Lexington is sponsoring a Crafts Fair on Sunday, Oct. 25, in the school cafeteria from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Located at 758 Marrett Road (Route 2A), the school is easily accessible from Exit 45B off Route 128. Skilled artisans from all over Eastern Massachusetts will gather to display their hand-crafted work. A refreshment stand will be available.

Economy Taking Toll On Andover Construction

The tight housing market seems to be taking some toll on Andover, which at times has seemed immune to high prices and higher interest rates and sustained continuing housing growth, unlike many other communities.

September statistics compiled by the building inspector's office show that only 10 building permits for new dwellings were issued last month — less than half the number, 21, issued last September. And the total number of permits issued this year to date has fallen to 83, compared to 114 last year at this time.

Permits for additions and alterations have increased slightly, however, perhaps indicating that some Andover residents are opting for home improvements rather than moving into new houses. Last month 63 permits were issued, for a total of 398 this year to date; last September, 47 permits were issued, and 307 to date at this time last year.

Building activity for business and industry has also picked up somewhat: While there were no permits for new businesses issued last year, 17 have been issued so far this year.

And, permits for additions and alterations to industry have doubled, with 14 issued this year to date, and seven at this time last year.

Permits for new industrial building have held their own compared to last year, with seven issued this year to date, and five issued last year at this time.

But the number of additions and alterations for business have dropped slightly, from a year's total of 26 in September 1980 to 18 as of September 1981.

No permits for additions and alterations to apartments have been issued this year, but two had been issued as of this time last year. One permit for a conversion to an apartment has been issued this year; there were none issued last year.

New Home Construction Slowing

Miscellaneous building permits — for signs and razing buildings, for example — total 164 to date, not far below the 179 issued as of this time last year.

The total number of building permits issued this September was 123, compared to 110 for the same month last year. A total of 863 permits have been issued this year to date, for a total valuation of more than $40 million; last year at this time, 822 permits had been issued, with a total value of more than $20 million.

Offers Energy Control

Andover resident John Kalil of 19 Tilton Lane and his partner, Rick Todd of North Andover, have announced the opening of a new business, Thermol Engineering, Inc., offering an energy control system they guarantee will save homeowners 20 percent on their oil heating bills.

The three-phase energy control system "covers the full spectrum of the heating system," Kalil says, and features a computerized modulator that regulates water temperatures in boilers, a computerized thermostat, and a flue control.

The modulator is designed to program the boiler temperature to "maximum efficiency while not giving up comfort," Kalil says. Every time a boiler switches on, it heats the water to 180 degrees, he explains, even though that temperature is only necessary for an average of three hours a day, for showers and washing dishes, for example.

Thermol Engineering's modulator reacts to the outside temperature to keep water temperature no higher than necessary to warm the house, except at those times when it is programmed to give hot water. For example, when it is 40 degrees outside, the water would reach 120 degrees to keep the house at 68 degrees.

And hot water can be had at any time, Kalil says, by using an override timer which will bring the water up to 180 degrees within three minutes.

The second phase of the system is a solid state thermostat programmed according to each family's needs, he says, with three settings for weekdays and two settings for weekends. The settings cycle on and off automatically and can also be overrode at any time.

Finally, the system includes a flue control because

Business Briefs

GCA CORP. — GCA Corp., with corporate headquarters in Burlington and a major plant in Andover, has established a photomaterials development group to study advanced resist materials as well as the process interactions between lithography equipment and photoresist systems.

The new group will be headed by Joseph I. Masters of Ionomet, which is located in Brighton, but will be moved to new quarters at GCA's major research facility in Burlington.

FABRICTOWN — Bruce Slovin, general manager of Fabritown, 557 Main St., Reading, has been selected as a distributor for Warm Window, insulated Roman Shade system which conserves energy and enhances the look of the window. The product results in an 83 per cent reduction in heat loss.

NORTHEAST THEATRE CORP. — Northeast Theatre Corp., of Boston announces the opening of a new four-screen movie complex on Winthrop Ave., Lawrence on Oct. 16.

The new complex, combined with existing Showcase Cinemas 1-2-3-4, will offer the Merrimack Valley a total of eight first-run motion pictures.

The new cinemas will seat a total of 1,200 patrons with the nine-acre site providing ample parking. The lobby area will feature a gallery of contemporary art prints.

DYONICS, INC. — Gerald A. Lacey has been elected president of Dyonics, Inc., a subsidiary of Rorer

Group, Inc. He succeeds Leonard J. Bonnell who has been named vice president, research and development, for the Surgical Products Division of Rorer Group, Inc.

Dyonics, based in Andover, is the pioneer and leading manufacturer of powered microsurgical instruments used by orthopedic surgeons in treating disorders of the human joints.

Appointed Department Director

Peter Cole of North Andover has been named the new director of communications at Lawrence General Hospital (LGH). Cole replaces Al Bunting who left LGH to establish a new business.

Cole joined the LGH respiratory staff in September 1969 chiefly as a critical care respiratory therapist. The new position represents a new career direction for him in a field he has always been interested in.

As the hospital's communications director he will oversee the operation of the switchboard and will help LGH implement improvements in its communications system.

Always actively interested in the hospital and its employees, Cole is a former president and treasurer of the Employees' Association and is former chairman of the LGH Communications Council. Currently he is on the board of directors of the hospital's credit union and is active in the Photo Club.

Away from the hospital Cole enjoys cooking and spending time water skiing.

Cole is a graduate of Essex Agricultural and Technical School, Danvers, and attended Northern Essex Community College.

homeowners can lose 30 percent of their heat "up the chimney," Kalil says.

Kalil was inspired to look into energy control last year, when he found himself at home with a back problem and heard his boiler constantly cycling on and off.

After lengthy correspondence with the U.S. Department of Energy and manufacturers of the three components of their system, Kalil and Todd "came up with the concept of putting the three components together. One complements the other," Kalil says.

Edward Weil

Appointed Investment Executive

Paine Webber Jackson and Curtis, 100 Federal St., Boston office, has announced that Edward Weil is now associated with the firm as an investment executive. Weil, a long-time Andover resident, was formerly the business manager of the Andover Public Schools.

Weil graduated from Stanford University with a B.A. degree in economics. Most recently he was vice president and treasurer of Protective Materials Company, a former Andover based corporation. "I became extremely involved in the stock market in the early '70s," Weil said, "with the inception of the Chicago Board of Options. I have found that ownership of sound stocks hedged with option positions has been a rewarding investment process."

Program For 'Riffed' Workers

The Greater Lowell Regional Vocational Technical School (GLRVTS) is accepting applications for a publicly funded program of intensive instruction in computer programming open to teachers and other government workers whose jobs have been eliminated by budget cutbacks. Additional eligibility requirements are Massachusetts residence and at least one college degree.

Project STRAIGHT (Short-Term Retraining and Instruction Geared to High Technology) was developed in answer to the State Division of Occupational Education's call for proposals to retrain "riffed" workers for hard-to-fill jobs in business and industry.

The 1000-hour retraining project will be conducted at the Tyngsboro school, which is the largest training facility in New England, and will run for six months beginning November 23. Hours of operation will be 3 to 9 p.m. weekdays and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

Fifty enrollees will be trained as COBOL-language programmers, using the school's extensive state-of-the-art computer hardware. The trainees will have ongoing access to a professionally skilled career counseling and job development team operating under the guidance of a steering committee comprised of major employers of computer personnel.

The largest of four retraining programs selected in statewide competition, Project STRAIGHT has been awarded $74,300 in funding from the State Department of Education. The only cost to the participant will be a nominal tuition fee of $300, representing a fraction of the actual training cost.

Project manager F. Nelson Burns, who authored the pioneering program, is optimistic that it will be the forerunner of similar programs "throughout the state and the country." Regional vocational schools have "infinite potential as career-bridging vehicles," Burns says, and he anticipates they will be more fully utilized with accelerating shifts in employment needs.

Program fact sheets and application forms are available from Project STRAIGHT, Greater Lowell Regional Vocational Technical School, Pawtucket Boulevard, Tyngsboro 01879.

Appointments

John R. Dimitry, president of Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill, has announced the appointment of two new faculty members in the Respiratory Therapy Technology Program.

Christopher Rowse has been named Coordinator of the Respiratory Therapy Technology Program, and Michael Nutter has been appointed Clinical Coordinator.

Rowse will supervise classroom and clinical training as well as curriculum planning and program development for the two programs in Respiratory therapy offered at the school. One program prepares students for certification as a respiratory technician and the other readies them for the registration exam.

As Instructional and Clinical Coordinator for the Respiratory Therapy programs, Nutter will be responsible under Rowse for the supervision and evaluation of the clinical portion of the programs. He will also supervise the efforts of seven other field clinical instructors.

AVIS Meeting

The annual meeting of the Andover Village Improvement Society will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the Christian Formation Center, 475 River Road, Andover.

Rossi Is Appointed Manager

Roger Rossi has been named by the William Barry Company as the new merchandise manager for the Bill Blass division of men's sportswear.

He was previously merchandise manager for the sport shirt division of Yankee Sportswear from 1970-81. Rossi formerly named the John Henry line from 1978-79 at the Manhattan Shirt Company. In prior to this position, he worked as a buyer and menswear buyer at Sak's Fifth Avenue for 10 years.

As merchandise manager for the Bill Blass division of William Barry, Rossi will be responsible for all merchandising and will report to Norman Berkowitz, president of the Bill Blass division.

Rossi received a B.S. in business administration from Lafayette College in East Pennsylvania. He is presently living in Andover and also keeps a home in Forest Hill, N.Y.

Raytheon Earnings Higher

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 15, 1981

Raytheon Company reported third quarter earnings 15.0 percent higher than last year on a 12.6 percent increase in sales.

In the quarter ended Sept. 27, Raytheon's net income was $87.6 million, or $1.04 per share, compared with $76.2 million, or $.92 per share, last year. Sales for the quarter were $1.381 billion versus $1.227 billion in the same period a year ago.

It was the 36th consecutive quarter in which results have surpassed those of the same period in the prior year.

For the first nine months, net income rose to $244.7 million, or $2.92 per share, on sales of $4.111 billion. In the first three quarters of 1980, net income was $213.9 million, or $2.58 per share, on sales of $3.674 billion.

All 1980 per share data have been restated to reflect the two-for-one split of the common stock completed on June 24, 1981.

Continuing the trend of the first six months of this year, Raytheon's defense electronic systems, aircraft products and geophysical exploration activities recorded the most growth in the third quarter.

At the end of September, the company's total backlog of funded orders was $5.479 billion, of which $2.037 billion was funded by the U.S. Government. Last year the total backlog was $5.375 billion, including $1.794 billion in U.S. Government-funded orders.

Per share earnings are computed on the average number of shares outstanding in the period. For the third quarter, this amounted to 84.1 million shares this year and 83.1 million shares in 1980. For the nine months, there were 83.9 million shares outstanding compared with 82.9 million last year.

Provisions for federal and foreign taxes amounted to $57.1 million in the third quarter and $160.9 million in the first nine months. In the comparable periods a year ago these were $49.0 million and $148.6 million, respectively.

Raytheon employed 77,100 persons worldwide at the end of September.

PeeWee B Wilmington League Andover 9 - Cambridge 0

Despite the lopsided score, this didn't look like an easy win until late in the second period. Until then Cambridge's goalie, E.J. Framartiono, had faced a barrage of Andover shots, and only let two get by him.

Andover got its first goal when Bob Stoltz stole the puck in Cambridge's zone and moved in to beat the goalie with a fine shot. Doug Blezinski then picked up the first of his three goals, moving by a defenseman to set up a partial breakaway and move in one-on-one with the goalie.

Just before that, the line of Peter Donegan, Chris Boyle and Lou LoPresti had put on some excellent pressure, and had several shots.

Blezinski had the third goal on a breakaway, finishing off his "hat trick" by getting the fifth goal with an almost identical breakaway play. Throughout the game his linemates, John Leonard and Andy Weiner, were effective on the wings and helped start off the breakaways.

From the three minute mark in the second period, Andover took control of the game and scored in bunches. In between Blezinski's second and third goal, Hugh Maginnis put in a shot following some hard digging with an assist to Chris Boyle. And in the last minute of the game, Maginnis scored again, breaking around the left side and beating the goalie with a shot to the top corner. Stoltz picked up his second goal tapping in a pass from out of a crowd in the high slot. Dan Haggerty, who had been just missing scoring bids throughout the game, finally got the payoff for a lot of hard work, driving a wrist shot from 15 feet out off a sprawling goalie into the top of the net. Assists went to Dan Iandoli and Stoltz, who worked well to keep the puck loose in a scramble.

Ian Anderson and Jim Berberian shared goaltending duties for this shutout to qualify for a "Zero Club" patch. They had few shot on goal to handle, but a couple were very big saves. In the second period Cambridge had a clean breakaway and Anderson had to rush the puck carrier, meeting him about 20 feet in front of the net. At the same moment Mike Nelligan's backchecking effort caught up, and together they stopped a very dangerous play. In the third period Chris McAnally came all the way from the Cambridge blue line to overtake a breakaway and knock the puck harmlessly to the corner. Then, with less than 30 seconds on the clock, Anderson had to be sharp to save the shutout, when a Cambridge forward swung the net unchallenged and had a great scoring chance at the post.

The defensive crops was a big factor in this game. John Leng had an outstanding game, and in the final period he put in a couple of strong shifts at wing, almost scoring a couple of times. Mike Nelligan was strong in containing play at the point, more than once rushing into the circle to tap loose pucks on net or into the corner to sustain the offensive pressure. And Brian costello got one of the goals, driving a shot through a scramble in front.

Passing was sharper in this game and it looks like the PeeWee Bs are putting it together a little more each time out.

up in his left hand corner and backhanded it in for the first Andover score. Peter Trede assisted the play, which was initiated by defenseman Tom Tormey, when he kept the puck inside the blue line.

Saugus got two up on Andover who were determined to score. On a power play, Sappupo and Jamie O'Brien were finally able to feed a centering pass to Mark Neaves which he fired home. Defenseman Glenn Allard alertly passed the puck over the goalie's shoulder into the right corner to tie the score.

Keeping the momentum, the A defensemen kept feeding the forwards and Pat Breen started the next scoring as he pinpointed the puck to Neaves, who in turn shared the glory with his pass to Sappupo for the go-ahead goal.

The final Andover goal was made when Kyle McCabe passed to the point. Defenseman Glenn Allard skated in from the blueline and passed to Matt Young who beat the goalie with a hard shot. Defensemen Steve Donovan and forwards Joey Lyons, Dave Riddeford and Mark Berberian hustled hard, starting many opportunities for this scores. Chris Hansberry and Tim Adams played goal well under the steady barrage of Saugus keeping Andover the victor.

Danvers League Andover 8 - Danvers 1

Hot from the win in Wilmington, Andover paced themselves to another moment of glory. The terrific "all over the place" defense by Steve Donovan, Tom Tormey, Pat Breen and Glenn Allard allowed only 11 shots on the Andover goalies Chris Hansberry and Tim Adams who helped Andover keep control.

Andover scored after 1½ minutes of playing when Steve Donovan and Mark Neaves gave Jamie O'Brien the puck to fire into the net. Following Coach Paul Gilmartin's strategy on a power play, O'Brien passed to Neaves who lifted the puck over a surprised goalie.

In the second period, Pat Breen deked the puck out in front of the goal for Chris Sappupo to easily flick past the goalie. A shot taken by Sappupo from the faceoff had the goalie looking in awe as Neaves poked the puck between his legs.

The puck bounced around the net in pinball style off several sticks when finally O'Brien got it to Neaves so that Neaves could score his second hat trick of the season. With sheer determination, Kyle McCabe set up the goal scored by Mark Berberian as they menacingly advanced from the blueline. Mark Neaves scored again by easily faking out the now helpless goalie after a pass from Sappupo. A nice finale for the Andover team was being part of a game that saw Mark Neaves match his 1980 record of five goals in one game, as once again he beat the frustrated Danvers goalie.

Andover 2 - Arlington 6

The Andover boys picked up extra ice time in a non-league game with Arlington. In the first period, Andover scored when Matt Young skated in off the faceoff and put the perfectly timed pass from Kyle McCabe past the dismayed goalie. Young again scored as he and linemate Mark Berberian obliged their fans with a nice display of teamwork.

Squirt B

Andover's 8-9-10 year old Squirt B hockey team absorbed two losses last weekend, dropping a 7-1 decision to Wilmington in Danvers Twin Rinks League action on Saturday and an 8-2 decision to Dracut in a Wilmington Arena League game on Sunday. The team has played better games than they played over the weekend and the players hope to get back on the winning track this weekend.

Wilmington 7 - Andover 1

Wilmington began the game with a five goal flurry in the first six minutes and coasted to the victory. But for a good goaltending effort by Michelle DiStefano, Wilmington might have run the score into the teens. Derek Camarota scored Andover's only goal in the third period, as he, Timmy Sullivan and Eddie Chaisson combined to give Andover fairly steady offensive pressure throughout most of the game. After Wilmington's five goal outburst defensemen Todd Allard, Matt Tanner, Jimmy Morris and Jonathan Shine settled down to play solid games, helping to contain the opposition's potent offense. Their efforts were aided by Bryan Smith and Danny Surdam's strong backchecking efforts. Andover's second line, made up of center Michael DiStefano and wings Randy Moreau and John Constantine, put in a good overall effort, combining on several plays which nearly led to scores. When it was all over, though, Wilmington's strength showed and Andover was a loser.

Dracut 8 - Andover 2

On Sunday, the B's lost to Dracut 8-2 in a game they should have done much better in. Unlike the Saturday game against Wilmington, Andover was facing a team of no more than equal ability. Andover's flat effort led to a loss though.

Andover again gave up three quick goals, putting them in a hole before the first period was over.

Michael DiStefano, centering John Constantine and Randy Moreau, scored Andover's first goal early in the second period to make the score 4-1. Inspired defensive play by goalie Michelle DiStefano and defensemen Jonathan Shine, Jimmy Morris, Todd Allard and Matt Tanner then shut Dracut down for over 12 minutes until forward Bryan Smith's first goal for the year, set up by Timmy Sullivan, made it 4-2 with about 11 minutes to go. Then the roof fell in on Andover as Dracut scored three quick goals for a five goal lead. A late offensive flurry led by Derek Camarota, Eddie Chaisson and Danny Surdam failed to generate a score and late Dracut goal made it an 8-2 defeat for the B's.

Ballet

The Boston Ballet presents Rodeo, the Agnes De Mille American classic, on Oct. 22 through 25 at the Opera House, 539 Washington Street. The high-spirited love story is set in the American southwest starring a tomboy cowgirl (Laura Young and Linda Bass) who eventually get her man, the champion roper (Donn Edwards and Jean-Philippe Hahnaut). The program will also feature the ballets Graduation Ball and Leitmotiv.

Rodeo, choreography by Agnes De Mille and music by Aaron Copeland, takes place on a ranch in the southwest and portrays a tomgirl's difficult path to womanhood and love. The ballet portrays the young tomgirl's unsuccessful attempt to impress her idol, the head wrangler, at a local rodeo competition. She later is persuaded to put on a dress for the Saturday night dance finds herself the object of both the head wrangler and the champion roper's heart. In the final scene, she discovers that her true love is the champion roper, not the head wrangler.

There is one slot machine in Las Vegas for every eight inhabitants.

West Parish Hoopsters Register

Registration for the West Parish church basketball teams will be held Sunday, Oct. 18, and Sunday, Oct. 25, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the West Junior High gymnasium.

To be eligible, youngsters must be at least eight years of age and not older than 15 years of age on Dec. 1, 1981.

Teams will be flooded in three separate divisions of the Andover Church Basketball League: Juniors (ages 8-10), Intermediates (ages 10-12), and Seniors (ages 13-15).

Registration forms ($10 fee) are available in the West Parish Church office, and will be available at the signups. All registration forms must be returned to Rick Harrison, 34 Chandler Road, Andover, by Oct. 31.

There is a need for coaches in all divisions.

Persons wishing more information should contact

Rick Harrison at 475-2007 (afternoons) or 458-7100 (evenings).

Youngsters who played last year and wish to do so again must register again.

Condos

When Cohen Properties of Brookline bought Washington Park on North Main Street last June to convert the 157 units into condominiums, Daniels pointed out that the land originally had been rezoned from agricultural to allow apartments there — not condos. He suggested that might give tenants a basis for fighting the conversion.

But many Washington Park tenants have elected to buy their units as condos, rather than move out of the complex. Cohen Properties offered tenants a 12 percent discount of up to $100,000 on their own units.

Those tenants and others interested in buying Washington Park condos petitioned the selectmen to drop their court appeal in August. They said the litigation was making it difficult for them to get bank financing to buy the condos.

Tenants also objected to a conversion permit fee of one percent of the gross selling price, which selectmen approved as a deterrent to developers. Townspeople argued that the fee would simply be passed along from the developer to individual buyers in the form of higher selling prices.

The selectmen Tuesday night voted to drop that permit fee along with their court case — although Selectman Susan Poore pointed out that without a condo conversion bylaw, the fee was "a moot point."

The Washington Park residents who asked the selectmen to drop their appeal were among the same tenants behind the condo conversion bylaw passed by annual town meeting last spring. Through the Council on Aging, the tenants persuaded the selectmen to write the bylaw, which would have required developers to obtain a special permit to convert from the Zoning Board of Appeals.

On the floor of town meeting, the residents amended the law to include a one-year notice period for tenants before developers could evict them to convert rental units into condos.

And Washington Park residents turned out in full force and argued with emotion on behalf of the bylaw to see it safely through town meeting.

About half of the apartment residents have decided to buy condos at Washington Park. Dorothy Winn of the Council on Aging said last week, while the other half have been forced to find new homes — the fear that led Washington Park dwellers to fight for the bylaw in the first place.

EMS Week

National Emergency Medical Services Week will be recognized Nov. 8-14 in Massachusetts. Public education goals for this week stress knowledge of emergency telephone numbers and training opportunities for both adults and children in First Aid and Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

Locally, a resource that may provide information and assistance is the Merrimack Valley EMS Corp., located at Lawrence General Hospital, One General St., Lawrence, MA 01842.

The first mechanically operated windshield wipers were introduced in the United States in 1916.

Humpbacks Rare

Humpback whales are now the third rarest whale in the world; they have been protected since 1966, but the population has not increased. They spend more time in shallow coastal waters than any other whale. Mass. Audubon tells us.

A greenhouse provides its excess heat, oxygen and humidity to a house, apartment building, school or office. The New England Solar Energy Center has estimated that a modest-sized solar greenhouse can cut a fuel bill from 5 to 20 percent, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Peabody Joins Resource Recovery Group

The seven-year journey of North Shore communities planning a 1,500 ton per day (tpd) $74 million resource recovery facility in North Andover reached a significant milestone when the Peabody City Council recently voted 10-1 to provide a landfill for the Northeast Solid Waste Committee (NESWC).

NESWC is a consortium of more than 40 communities. The Peabody City Council approved a contract negotiated by Mayor Peter Torigian and the state Bureau of Solid Waste Disposal (BSWD).

According to terms of the agreement, Peabody will join NESWC and contribute approximately 80 tpd to the resource recovery project bringing NESWC's contract tonnage to approximately 450 tpd.

In exchange for Peabody's participation, NESWC communities will be allowed to use the landfill until the North Andover facility planned by UOP, Inc., Des Plaines, Ill., goes on line in 1985.

NESWC communities will be charged in escalating fee of $13 per ton for landfill privileges.

Hearing

The House Small Business Committee will hold a hearing on Monday, Oct. 19, in Salem to consider the subject of small business and energy conservation. Congressman Berkley Bedell (D-Iowa), chairman of the Energy Subcommittee, announced the witness list.

Mr. Bedell notes that the hearing is being hosted by Congressman Nicholas Mavroules, the senior Democratic member of the Energy Subcommittee.

The hearing in Salem will seek information in response to these three questions, according to Bedell: What are the characteristics of small business energy usage? What can the individual small business do to reduce its energy consumption? and what are small businesses doing in the way of developing and marketing energy conservation and alternative energy technologies?

The Commonwealth will pay Peabody $750,000 and up to $150,000 of the city's engineering costs for expanding the landfill and a second $750,000 payment will be made once the UOP facility goes on line.

The Peabody landfill provides NESWC communities with interim capacity during plant construction and the area will also serve as an emergency landfill during scheduled and unscheduled shutdowns of the UOP facility.

In addition, the Peabody facility will be used to landfill residue from UOP's mass incineration facility.

The $16 million state outlay will be reimbursed through the NESWC project.

13 years with the telephone company as a central office repairman before joining the police department. He and his wife, Shirley, are the parents of three children, Carol, Bruce and Scott.

Lt. Lynch, an Andover native and Andover High school graduate, is a 14-year veteran of the department, and has been a sergeant since January 1979. He lives in Andover with his wife, Bette, and their two children, Shawn, 10, and Ryan, 7. An Army veteran, Lynch served with the 101st Airborne Division in Vietnam, and with the military police.

Lynch has attended Northern Essex Community College, and has taken a number of law enforcement courses. He also serves as an assistant coach with the Junior Football league in Andover, and has belonged to the Andover Men's Softball League for 15 years. The new lieutenant shares life on the force with his brother, Patrolman Lawrence Lynch, a police department veteran of nearly 20 years.

Lt. Enos, a 15-year veteran of the department, was introduced with his wife, Joan, their daughter Julie, 10, and son Richard, 6. A native of Melrose, Enos graduated from Melrose High School, attended Salem State, and holds an associate degree in law enforcement from Northern Essex Community College. He has been a sergeant for more than seven years.

Lt. Parker joined the department in 1962, and has served as a detective sergeant for the past eight years. He lives in Andover with his wife of 32 years, Lois, and two of their four children. A native of Lynn, Parker is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a past master of St. Matthews Masonic Lodge, among other positions.

Sgt. Houlihan has been a member of the department since August 1969. Born in Lawrence, he attended Lawrence schools and still lives in the city. Unmarried, Houlihan worked as an electrical buyer for Sanders Associates of Nashua, N.H., before joining the Andover police.

Completes Marine Training

Marine Pvt. Sean Gallagher, son of James M. and Barbara Gallagher of 129 Russell St., North Andover, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1981 graduate of North Andover High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1980 under the delayed entry program.

Marsha S. Rubin — Registered Electrologist

There are three times in a woman's lifetime when she can notice changes in hair growth: puberty, pregnancy, and menopause. If you have ever felt bothered or embarrassed about a hair problem then you should think about electrolysis.

Electrolysis is the only method of permanent hair removal approved by the American Medical Association. Electrologists are professionals who use specialized equipment to achieve hairfree, carefree results. Trained, qualified practitioners can custom tailor an electrolysis program suited to your specific hair removal needs.

Marsha Rubin is Andover's only electrologist. She is a graduate of an accredited electrology school and worked under another electrologist before opening her own business. Since opening in Olde Andover Village one year ago she has provided many women with the beautiful results that electrolysis offers. Marsha had a hair problem at one time and understands how psychologically beneficial electrolysis can be. She was thrilled with the results and knows that you will be too.

Marsha offers you eyebrow shaping, and facial and body hair removal. There are no side effects when done under the hands of a skilled operator and there is no pain — just beautiful results! Remember — other methods of hair removal such as waxing, tweezing, and use of depilatories are not permanent and can cause more damage than good by stimulating growth and damaging skin. Electrolysis is not an overnight process, but spending the time for it now is slight compared to removing hair yourself for the rest of your life.

Marsha offers you a free consultation. She sees clients on a weekly basis at the start and as the rate of hair growth diminishes, visits become less frequent. Call Marsha today for a free consultation. You're never too old for permanently sleek, smooth skin. Marsha S. Rubin, R.E., Olde Andover Village, 89 Main St., Andover. Tues-Sat. Tel. 475-6089.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Heleen Prost, Trustee of The Robin Trust, under a declaration of trust dated June 24, 1977, filed and registered with Essex North Registry District of the Land Court as Document #26580 and noted on Certificate of Title #U-47, of Andover, Essex County, to the Coolidge Bank and Trust Company, a trust company with an usual place of business in Watertown, Middlesex County, dated June 27, 1977, filed and registered with Essex North Registry District of the Land Court as Document #26583 and noted on said Certificate of Title #U-47, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder for breach of condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at Public Auction at 9 A.M. on the 9th day of November, 1981 on the premises at Unit #205, 5 Longwood Drive, Andover, MA, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

The dwelling unit ("Unit") referred to as No. 205 in that portion of Building No. 2 known as 5 Longwood Drive in Andover Terrace Condominium, a condominium established in Andover Middlesex County, Massachusetts by Lusalon Construction Corporation pursuant to General Laws, Chapter 183A by Master Deed dated March 31, 1970 registered with the North Registry District of Essex County as document No. 25235 ("Master Deed") and noted on certificate of title No. C-1, Book 1 1, Page 1, which Unit contains 1,153 square feet more or less and is as shown on the floor plans of the Building filed simultaneously with said Master Deed in the Essex North District Land Registration Office and on the copy of the portion of said plans attached to the Unit Deed registered herewith.

Said Unit is conveyed together with:

(a) An undivided interest of 2.07% in the common areas and facilities described in said Master Deed; and

(b) The right to exclusive use of one parking space as assigned by the Trustees of Andover Terrace Condominium Trust; and

(c) The right to exclusive use of the storage enclosure appurtenant to said Unit indicated in said Master Deed; and

(d) The benefit of and subject to all easements, rights, reservations, restrictions, agreements and provisions contained in the Condominium Master Certificate, said Master Deed, the Declaration of Trust creating the Andover Terrace Condominium Trust, and the By-laws contained therein, all duly filed with said Land Registration Office, or as the same may be amended of record, and the Rules and Regulations from time to time promulgated thereunder as authorized therein, and including, without limitation, the restrictions set forth in said Master Deed that this Unit may be used only for residential purposes except as prescribed therein. The provisions of said Master Deed, the Plans filed therewith, and of said Declaration of Trust and the By-laws contained therein (as the same may from time to time be amended by instrument duly filed with said Land Registration Office) are hereby incorporated by reference and constitute covenants running with the land and are and shall remain binding upon any person or persons having at any time any interest or estate in this Unit and persons claiming through or under them.

This conveyance is also made subject to and with the benefit of the provisions of said General Laws Chapter 183A as now in force and as from time to time amended, and subject also to municipal taxes assessed as of the current tax year.

Said premises will be sold subject to any unpaid real estate taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments.

ZPG AND HOUSING MARKET

This country has reached a new threshold
in its population growth.
Now, as the experts have predicted, zero
population growth
(ZPG) is here. Families are smaller than ever and the elderly are living longer. How has this affected the building industry?

Nationally, it has caused builders to plan somewhat smaller houses to house smaller families and with less frills to accommodate the lessening purchasing power.

The national birth rate has now plunged to 1.9 children per family
— lowest in history — and well below the "replacement level". Marriages decreased last year the first time since 1958. About 2.4% fewer marriages were performed in the previous year. Divorces totalled 970,000 last year, an increase of over 6% from the previous year. Upward trend started in 1962 and continues to accelerate.

Households also got smaller last year. They dipped below the three person level for the first time. Persons 65 years and older constitute the largest live-alone group but the fastest growing live-alone group are persons under 35.

If there is anything
we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in
at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100.
We're here to help.

Experience

the school there would be no problem with the students' arriving during the Easter holidays. But in France, Mme. Berry writes, Didac was having trouble finding a school that would be open for the Andover students to attend, because most would be on spring vacation.

In late March, Berry's office sent Andover a letter explaining that not enough host families could be found, and the students were to camp in a parish center; there would not be enough beds for everyone.

The letter took Andover totally by surprise, Mitsakos says, and to compound the problem, Didac's Cambridge representative had left unexpectedly for France, "so we were left up a tree."

"In retrospect," Mitsakos says, "we've felt there could have been miscommunication on both sides. But the parents felt they got taken, and there wasn't a lot of recourse. The kids were all psyched up about going. They had been saving their money for the trip, and they really wanted to go."

After ruling out cancellation, the schools salvaged the trip: Teacher Roger Thurber telephoned France and made arrangements for hotel accommodations, at some additional expense to the students.

One family did decide to cancel, and had trouble getting a refund, Mitsakos says, despite letters from the schools on their behalf. The family ended up taking Didac to small claims court, but the assistant superintendent does not know if they were successful.

Didac, meanwhile, was disturbed that Andover pulled out of its plans with the organization after the French office had "spent much time and money to sort out" the arrangements, Berry writes.

The misunderstandings continued when French students were later sent to Andover in exchange. Plans called for 21 French students to stay here, so 21 local families were recruited as hosts. But only six students arrived, causing "some commotion" among families who had been looking forward to the visit.

The French students stayed only one week, not two as planned, but they had "a good stay," Mitsakos says, enjoying trips to Lexington, Concord, and Boston's Quincy Market, along with classes at Andover High.

A few more students arrived during the summer — with arrangements made outside of Didac — perhaps leading to Berry's charge that Andover "refused to host the same number of French students as there were Andover participants, as had been agreed upon in the beginning." Mitsakos says he is not sure what Berry means by that accusation.

The schools have not given up on France, especially since the ninth-, tenth- and eleventh-graders who traveled there last spring "had a very good experience and a great time." And they would like to exchange students with Germany and Spanish-speaking countries as well.

The administration is now surveying other local schools and foreign exchange organizations for information to help organize future exchanges, Mitsakos says.

Andover's best hope is to set up continuing exchange programs with foreign schools, "to develop contacts and establish a school-to-school relationship that will be more lasting," he explains.

Buses

hazardous" streets get to school safely.

In the final report, Casey recommends adding three new buses, with the help of $42,500 recently found in available cash in the school budget. The new buses will necessitate "massive rerouting" of the current bus routes, she said.

The report also deals with the problems of unauthorized riders on buses and at bus stops, and overcrowded bus stops.

Work on the report has been "coming right along," Casey said, although she hadn't counted on the interruption of the Columbus Day holiday Monday.

School committee approval of Casey's recommendations could close the debate on busing that has raged throughout the community since the committeemen came up with their new busing policy in August.

The policy increased busing limits from one mile to a mile and a-half for elementary students, and from a mile and a-half to two miles for secondary students, with exceptions made only for hazardous streets, in an effort to trim nearly $100,000 from the schools' Prop 2½ budget.

Parents have argued that the new policy forces children to walk to school along unsafe streets.

Bach's Mass

Handel & Haydn opens its 167th season on Oct. 29 and 31 with performances of Bach's B-Minor Mass at Symphony Hall. Both performances, conducted by artistic director Thomas Dunn, begin promptly at 8 p.m. This Bach program inaugurates a seven-concert season by the Society's fully professional chorus and orchestra, assisted by soloists of national reputation. Gerald Tarack, concertmaster of New York's popular "Mostly Mozart" series, will serve as concertmaster of the H&H orchestra.

Handel & Haydn last performed the B-Minor Mass in 1977 to a sold-out house. This year will see an important new approach to some of the choruses. Following a practice identified with Bach, portions of these choruses will be sung by soloists, an approach which caused quite a stir in New York when Thomas Dunn introduced it. Six soloists have been engaged to implement this conception: Doralene Davis, Karen Lykes, Pamela Gore, Jon Humphrey, Sanford Sylvan and Frances Hester.
